WOULD PREVENT

Adjustment Is Essential,
He Tells Mississippi
Bankers, to Bring Capital Back Into Business.

The Associated Press.
JACKSON, Miss., May 5.—A million of the maximum surtax levied in an address and a radical reduction in the elimination of the Fed-estate tax. In all probability the committee will be recommended to the House and Means Committee by the society next fall. Secretary Mcdonald declared in an address before the members of the Mississippi Bankers' Association. The Secretary said that while it would not be appropriate for him to set forth "definite program" until the society makes its recommendations to the committee "in the light of the committee's views," he felt that the "margin of surplus" would be ample for these reforms.
The levy of an income tax, at least, is a fair and economic means of raising the revenue required for the operation of the Government," Mcdonald asserted.
But the tax must not be levied so high as to hamper business, slacken initiative, distort income and encourage avoidance defects in present law.

"The position of the income tax," he said, "is a matter of great importance. We must give to the country a law which crosses the most obvious lines of escape from taxation at the same time exposing the law to contempt by leading it to be with complicated provisions, but at the same time, in structure, tax avoidance.

"The present law has many of these defects. It levies rates so high as to encourage tax avoidance, the same time it is full of complicated provisions which seek to close all the doors of escape. The result is to increase the difficulties of the taxpayer and to induce
him to feel of annoyance and resentment on their part at a law which makes compliance with provisions so difficult."
"In attempting reform of the law, two courses are open," the secretary pointed out.
"One is to increase the rates,
the other is to encourage tax avoidance,
the same time it is full of complicated provisions which seek to close all the doors of escape. The result is to increase the difficulties
of the taxpayer and to induce
him to feel of annoyance
and resentment on their part at a law which makes compliance with provisions so difficult."

VOTE WATCHERS AROUSSED BY NOISE, SUMMON POLICE

Investigation, However, Shows Disturbance Was Caused by Pounding Steam Pipe.

To the 10 watchers of the vault in the office of the Board of Election Commissioners the early morning hours are unduly long.
The banging of owl cars over crossings comes but faintly to their ears and even the squawk of the night-cruising taxi is muffled.

But early this morning their vigil was interrupted by a noise which unmistakably was emanating from the office next door. It was a dull, steady series of pounding blows. Someone was trying to get in and tamper with the ballots before the Igoo-Miller recount.

A squad of police was called and while the 10 watchers stood by the vault a policeman mounted a ladder and entered the office next to the door being locked. He came out a few minutes later and the four Miller and four Igoo men breathed signs of relief, and the two City Hall employees who were watching felt better, too.

The noise was caused by a steam pipe pounding in its best apartment house manner.

POUND STERLING $4.85 1/8
IN LONDON, HIGHEST SINCE WAR

Is Strengthened by Remarks of Chancellor of Exchequer on Gold Standard Bill.

LONDON, May 5.—Under renewed demand from the United States and local sources, the pound sterling, which is slowly climbing toward parity, today touched its highest point on this side of the Atlantic since the war at $4.85 1/8, or a fraction beyond New York's overnight level.

The remarks of Chancellor of the Exchequer, Churchill, in the House of Commons last evening, in connection with the gold standard bill, assisted the sentiment, which already was favorable toward exchange.

During the day the pound continued to advance and at the close of the market was officially quoted at $4.85 1/8.

JAIL TERM AND FINE FOR WOMAN BOOTLEGGER UPHELD

Judge Nipper of Appeals Court Mr.
Justice sentenced Mrs. Margaret Stanley.

A sentence of four months in jail and a fine of $500 for possession of liquor, imposed on Mrs. Margaret Stanley, who conducts a soft drink parlor at 1111 N. 1st St., by Circuit Judge Wurdeman in 1923, were upheld by Judge Nipper of the St.
Louis Court of Appeals today.

Mrs. Stanley was arrested June 9, 1923, after search of her premises at 619 E. Jackson, disclosed a considerable quantity of moonshine whisky and home brew. When the case came up at Clayton, testimony was waived and Judge Wurdeman assessed the double penalty. Mrs.
Stanley based her appeal upon a technicality.

EXPLOSIONS ON STREET CAR AFTER POLICE BEER RAID

Only Four of 13 Bottles Seized for Evidence Reach Prosecuting Attorney.

A series of explosions rocked an eastbound Market car at Chouteau and Boyle avenues yesterday afternoon. The motorman looked at the fuse box and the passengers looked at the doors.

The conductor, a calculating person, counted the explosive reports —nine in all, one after another.
They seemed to come from under a seat occupied by two men who appeared respectable.

One man looked at the other and inquired, "Did your revolver go off?"

"No," replied the other, "but my trousers leg is wet. You must have shot me."

A hasty inventory, however, showed their respective revolvers were still hoisted. Then they lifted a covered basket from under a seat. It was dripping wet—dripping beer.

The two passengers, far from being bootleggers, were City Detectives Taylor and Schneider. They had raided a home-brewery in the North District, put 13 bottles of beer in a basket and started in an automobile for the Prosecuting Attorney's office. The automobile broke down, and they changed to a street car. The street car stirred the yeast in the bottles and nine of them exploded. The other four reached the Prosecuting Attorney's office.

COUNTRESS DE KERNINON ON TRIAL FOR KILLING HUSBAND

Former Cafe Singer, Who Dis-

Says Shooting Was Accident.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., (New York World)

PARIS, May 5.—"War or love?" was the motto of the noble house of Kerninon in Brittany. True to tradition, Count Roger de Kerninon, last of the line, met death at the last autumn at his own wife's hand in the last act of a tragedy of love.

The Countess will be tried for murder today. She was a beautiful girl, scarcely 20, although already the widow of a poor workman in Algeria, when she met for dancing young cavalier, Count Roger.

She was a singer in a third-rate cafe, and the Count married her, despite the opposition of relatives and friends.

Jealousy transformed an idyll into an existence of quarrels and bickering. When the Countess discovered her husband had borrowed $6000 for his mistress her anger knew no bounds. It is charged that after failing to induce either the Count or the girl to give up the other, she shot the Count dead in his study. She declares the shooting was an accident.

19 MEMBERS OF COAST GUARD FORCE
HELD FOR GRAFT

By LEASD WIRE FROM THE NEW YORK
BUREAU OF THE POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, May 4.—On the last of the largest offenses against the rum fleet, high officials of the Coast Guard admitted that no less than 19 members of the Staten Island unit were in jail on charges involving dishonesty.

The admission came yesterday as the Coast Guard's rum fleet was being shaken up. 200 men on 32 boats were transferred among these boats. The shakeup affected all but boatswains, and followed a visit by Capt. W. V. E. Jacobs, chief commander.

Twenty justice agents are trailing at least one former member of the coast guard who landed 1400 cases of liquor at Christopher street.

Whole boatloads of coast guards,
it was admitted, have gone wrong since the coast guard got one third way out of Rum Row and come back with bootleggers instead of rum.

In the case of the former patrol boat, CG-203, it alleged, the crews went bad three times before Capt. E. J. Bryan obtained an honest crew. Capt. Bryan is in charge in Staten Island.

Attempt at Bribery.
The result, Capt. Bryan said yesterday, was the recent arrest of two bootleggers who tried to bribe the CG-203 crew to let them run Rum Row and consider inducements of $8 a case for smuggling liquor. These arrests were followed by the seizure of the Madeline E. Adams, from which the bootleggers hoped, with the assistance of the coast guard, to smuggle in $100,000 worth of liquor.

The man now sought is former boatswain, who, it is said, paid the men under him $200 each for their trips from Rum Row, which netted him profits of many thousands of dollars. It was said the 1400 cases of liquor were worth $120,000. He himself has a market value of at least $75 a case. The profits were split 50-50 with bootleggers.

When the man was dismissed,
Capt. Bryan said, the full facts were not known, or he would have been prosecuted.

Five of the 19 accused were taken from the Richmond County Jail yesterday. It was said this was connected with "court-martial" proceedings. Capt. Bryan said he had confessions from all 19.

Others than the 19 are believed to have been arrested at the other local stations.

BURIED TREASURE MAGNET DRAWS POSTAL SLEUTHS

But 23-Year-Old Inventor Still Insists That It Will Point to Hidden Stores of Coins.

POSTAL FRAUD CITATION ISSUED

One Buyer "Found $50,000 Right Away," Says Maker
—Post Office Inspectors Skeptical.

Tracy J. Burchard is 23 years old and an electrician by trade, but his main interest in life centers around his "Wonder Locator" which he advertises as a positive detector of hidden gold, silver and copper treasures. For that reason he was both puzzled and pained when a Post-Dispatch reporter informed him the Post Office Department has cited him to show cause why a fraud order should not be issued barring the locator from the mails.

"I don't see how anyone can doubt that it locates treasure," he said yesterday at his home, 5617 Page boulevard, which also is the headquarters of the Trace Research Co., the name under which he markets the "wonder" "Why I've got testimonials from over a dozen people who used them. One said he found $50,000 right away."

The "Wonder Locator" is made in two sizes, selling at $48 and $44.50. It looks like an inverted double electric light socket on a long chain. Treasure hunters are instructed to hold the device over spots where they believe treasure is buried and, if it is buried there, the device will glow toward the treasure. However, Postoffice Inspectors replied they tested the detector over a pile of pure gold and noted no glow.

Where the Trouble Lay. "That's just the trouble," exclaimed Burchard. "The locator isn't supposed to locate pure gold, silver or copper, but it will locate any alloy of these metals. For instance, it won't find a gold mine, but it will locate a buried chest of gold coins, because there's an alloy of copper in gold coins."

"I suppose some dissatisfied purchaser complained to the inspectors," he continued. "Some get dissatisfied when they don't find treasure, even if there is no treasure hidden. Maybe an old farmer who lived alone died, and no will or savings is found. Pretty soon, one fellow says to another, 'Maybe he hid his money.' And in a short time people are sure of it. Then they try to locate it. If they don't find it, because it isn't there, then they say the locator doesn't work."

Some Sent on Trial. Since last August, Burchard said, he has sold about 40 locators, and only had to refund the purchase price in two or three instances. So confident is he of the peculiar talent of his locators that he once sent a half dozen of them out on trial. Also, the locators who received them were dishonest, and neither returned nor returned the locators. In other cases purchasers have paid half the price upon receipt and the balance as soon as they found treasure.

Although somewhat reluctant to disclose the secret of his device, Burchard said it contains radium salts and other expensive ingredients. It works best, he added, when the person who holds it has plenty of electricity in his or her body. The radio-activity thus produced "draws" the hidden metals.

"By the way," asked the reporter, "as he was leaving, 'have you ever located any treasure for yourself?'"

"No, not yet," was the serious answer. "But some of my customers have sent me tips, and I'm going to try this summer and try to locate several treasures. If the Post-office Department won't let me use the detectors, I guess I'll have to hunt treasure for a living."

at Cost of Sixpence Per Capita.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. LONDON, April 18.—That the span of life can be extended to 150 years at the cost of a sixpence (approximately 12 cents) a head, is the argument of Sir Ronald Ross, the English scientist whose researches have led to cures for malaria and sleeping sickness. Sir Ronald claims that a sixpence from the pocket of every Englishman spent in scientific research would result in new medical knowledge that would keep germs and old age away for at least 150 years.

The scientist thinks that the allotted span of three score years and nine should find man in the prime of life, instead of edging his pedic extremity toward the grave. We live curtailed lives, he says, because we are the prey of countless germs. Conquer the germs and man can easily reach the age of 150 and maybe longer.

"Eighty years ago," said Sir Ronald in a lecture, "the average life of a London man was about 34 years 7 months and of a woman 38 years 4 months. Today it is 53 years 9 months and 59 years. This medical science in 80 years has given us 20 years more of life."

Research Started. This start on cheating eternity has just begun, the speaker continued. Nowadays the equivalent of one penny a head is being spent in Britain for research, and he asserted that the spending of a sixpence per head would be a great step.

SAYS MRS. SHEPHERD HAD PART IN PLOT

Judge Olson Describes Wife of Accused "Strong-Willed, Purposeful Woman."

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, May 5.—References to Lady MacBeth were employed today in Judge Harry Olson's closing statement at the McClelland inquest, in describing Mrs. William D. Shepherd as a "strong-willed, purposeful woman." Her husband is under indictment charged with the murder of William D. McClelland, "millionaire orphan." Judge Olson said there was evidence that the death of McClelland, as probably those of other persons, were "induced" in a conspiracy of which "Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were participants." Mrs. Shepherd has not before been so directly accused.

"Lady Shepherd" was the phrase with which Judge Olson referred to Mrs. Shepherd in one instance. He said that Mrs. Shepherd was strong-willed and purposeful, where Shepherd was weak.

Wants Inquest Left Open. Judge Olson requested that the jury be instructed to hold its persons they believed to be principally responsible for any of the three deaths, and to leave the inquest technically open for the possible presentation of evidence against any accessories who might be indicted by the evidence thus far heard.

A novel portion of Judge Olson's address to the jury was its application of his theory that mental characteristics, and abnormalities, if they exist, should be taken account of in the prosecution of accused persons as well as in their defense.

"The woody mind of this man Shepherd," said Judge Olson, "was filled up with the McClelland estate. It is not uncommon for any person in a criminal case to poll themselves, asking 'would I commit such a crime?' They ought to take into consideration, instead, the fact that the criminal mind is not the mind of the man who stays out of jail."

Offers Photographs of Shepherd. "Hence the first thing I did in this investigation was to get a photograph of the Shepherds, which I have offered in evidence. Look at this picture, the woman strong and cold and purposeful; the man soft and weak-willed. These folks are complements of each other."

"A writer says of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth, 'She differs from him in just the right way to supplement him.'"

"Mrs. McClelland was not used to such low-grade emotional reactions as were displayed by this couple. At a station that is a cinder path, on a lonely Texas bayou, Shepherd built for Mrs. McClelland a cottage. Let the waves rock it in the winds blow it away; it has served its purpose. Mrs. McClelland is dead."

Judge Olson was granted a motion, made yesterday, that the jury be allowed to bring in any findings as to persons it should be held in connection with the three deaths, but that the inquest be held open to allow further testimony to be taken at any time.

"Dapper Don" Flannery Held. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, May 5.—Helen Patterson Heyworth, flannery of "Dapper Don" Collins, today was held in $500 bail on a charge of possessing narcotics. Detectives arrested her in a Manhattan hotel. Hearing was set for May 12.

pence a head would make the monkey gland useless. A scientist of the Pasteur Institute in Paris has predicted that in 100 years from now the average man will live to be 150 years old. Mechnikoff, the Russian scientist, has made the same prophecy. These visions of a future race of Methuselahs are to be materialized through the agency of the research laboratory, in Sir Ronald's opinion.

The laboratory worker in the next generation, if allowed full scope, will trace all destructive diseases to their source and exterminate them, instead of combating them after they have appeared, Sir Ronald said.

Funds Needed. Already research laboratories are at work on important medical problems. The Pasteur Institute is seeking to destroy cancer and tuberculosis and the Ross Institute in London is working for the eradication of leprosy.

Advanced English scientists hope to see research laboratories in every large city in the world, financed by the State or municipality. In them the search will be carried on for unseen enemies of the human family until the last germ has disappeared. If the medical world could spend $10,000,000 annually instead of $900,000, as now, Sir Ronald avers, our children's grandchildren would all be centenarians, and at that be only pikers to their posterity.

CHARITY BALL GAME
"DRAWING" UNLIKELY

Tuberculosis Society to Distribute Prizes Some Other Way If Police Oppose Plan.

The Police Board attitude on games of chance at carnivals will extend to the annual baseball game of the Tuberculosis Society, it was learned today, and probably will be directed against the distribution of prizes through the "drawing" of numbers on 10,000 scorecards which sell at 25 cents each.

The game, in which the St. Louis National League team and another of the same league are annual participants, usually results in a revenue of $25,000 to $30,000 to the society.

W. Jones Jr., secretary and general manager of the society, said today that the drawing by numbers would be eliminated if the Police Board ruled against it but that some other plan would be devised through which the prizes might be distributed.

The funds of the society are directed toward the maintenance of a Night and Day Camp for women and working girls at 5500 South Broadway, providing meals for children in open air, medical and dental clinics, social service work and the maintenance of the organization. Its sources of revenue are the annual ball game, the sale of Christmas seals and voluntary contributions.

"The Tuberculosis Society game always is a holiday affair and the bulk of the proceeds goes to the society. Manufacturers and merchants donate prizes of clothing, ranging from automobiles to chewing gum, and smaller prizes are distributed by placing a coupon awarding them in the booklet which includes a score card and reading matter relating to the care and prevention of tuberculosis. Each score card has a number, and after the game these numbers are drawn from a hat and the prizes distributed to those who hold the numbers drawn. This is the phase of the matter that has attracted the attention of the Police Board."

Jones said considerable of the interest which attaches to the game resulted from this feature of it. It might be possible to sell the booklet for a number, and give away coupons distributing the prizes. The problem will be worked out, he said, when the society meets to make plans for the game.

THREE PERSONS ARE BURNED
IN EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE

Three persons were burned, one seriously, and property damage of $1500 was caused yesterday noon when a quantity of gasoline with which Mrs. Gertrude Longenecker, 43 years old, was cleaning clothes in the basement of 2613 S. Grand boulevard, exploded from an unknown cause.

Mrs. Longenecker, who lives at 2525 McNair avenue, and is employed by Mat Conkling, who occupies the second floor of the house, was taken to city hospital in serious condition with burns about the body and face. Dr. Edward A. Voight, who occupies the first floor, and Howard Babin, a porter at Alhambra Grotto, 2530 South Grand boulevard, suffered burned hands and arms in extinguishing the fire from Mrs. Longenecker's clothing.

Damage to the house was estimated at $3000 and the contents were damaged $500.

STOLE $10,000 TO GAMBLE AT DICE, KOMAR DECLARES

Former City Clerk of Maplewood Gives Himself Up in Detroit—Disappeared on April 18.

That mythical pot of gold at the rainbow's base—easy money—lured George D. Komar, former City Clerk and Collector of Maplewood, over a gambler's path to the precipice of embezzlement and disgrace.

Surrendering himself to the police at Detroit, he told how a "friend" had introduced him to the roll of the dice at St. Louis County gambling establishments three years ago. "Easy money," he thought, but he didn't even have beginner's luck. He lost $10,000 in trying to make the spotted cubes bring him unexpected profits. First he lost $2000, then $2000, then $2000, and then he became a thief of public funds, but it was good money after bad. He estimates that he took about $10,000 from his official accounts.

To "Face the Music." A Deputy Sheriff is to go to Detroit for Komar, who expresses a desire to "face the music." Mayor Burks of Maplewood said today that the audit of Komar's books now shows a shortage of about $12,000. It is not completed. It is the annual audit, having been begun on April 20. Komar disappeared on April 18, after being told the audit was to be made, and saying that his books were in good shape. Since then a successor has been appointed.

Komar told his story in Detroit as follows: "When I had lost $2000, my savings, seeking easy money in gambling places, I still thought I could make a killing. I lost a few more three years ago. I think it was, to take little sums of the public moneys in my care. With this I sought to recoup. It was the old story. I was a consistent loser. Occasionally I would win a little, but it wasn't enough to change the balance and I got in deeper and deeper."

JARDINE ENTERS BRONCHO-BUSTING CONTEST ON DARE

Twitted by Chum of Cowboy Days, He Says He Will Ride at Mandan Roundup.

By the Associated Press. MANDAN, N. D., May 5.—Accepting a "dare" of a boyhood chum, William Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, has entered in the annual Mandan roundup to be held here July 2, 3 and 4.

Jardine will be ready to ride "as many bronchos as you can lead before him," declared F. M. Russell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, in a letter to John M. Stephens, Superintendent of the United States Northern Great Plains Field Station here which was made public today.

Jardine and John Stephens were born at Maud, Idaho, and grew up together. Both drove cattle in Washington recently he had a talk with his old pal, the new Secretary of Agriculture, who informed him of his intended tour through the West, and his intention to visit the Government farm at Mandan.

WIDOW OF MAX ZACH LOSES $7500 INSURANCE SUIT

St. Louis Court of Appeals Upholds Ruling That Symphony Conductor's Death Was Not Accidental. An attempt by Mrs. Blanche Zach, widow of the late Max Zach, former conductor of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, to collect $7500 on an accident policy carried by him in the Fidelity and Casualty Co. of New York, was overruled by the St. Louis Court of Appeals today when Judge Nipper ruled that Zach's death did not result from an accident under the meaning of the policy. The decision upheld the action previously taken by the Circuit Court denying Mrs. Zach's claim.

Zach's death, which occurred on Feb. 3, 1931, resulted from septic pneumonia, which developed following the extraction of a molar tooth a few days earlier. Mrs. Zach contended this should be interpreted as an accidental death because of the fact the fatal illness developed from a tooth which suffered as a result of the extraction.

In upholding the lower court's findings, however, Judge Nipper admitted that the terms of the policy admitted of but one reasonable interpretation and that such an injury as blood poisoning was not covered unless it resulted from accidental means. He also pointed out that the extraction was carried out as intended by both Zach and the dentist and that there was no mishap or accident connected with the operation.

Ex-Swedish Finance Head Dies. By the Associated Press. STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 5.—Former Finance Minister F. V. Thorsson died today. He recently was elected to succeed the late Premier Hjalmar Branting as head of the Social Democratic party.

"Don't do that, Freddie," one of the others called, and the assailant returned to the machine.

Steve Raxian, of 1319 Palm street, called the police to his home at 8:40 p. m. and reported that while he was on his way to work at 4:45 a. m. yesterday, he was set upon by two men at Ninth and Angelstodt streets and forced to get into their automobile. He said they drove to a point near Bridgeport, in St. Louis County, where they knocked him unconscious with the butt of a revolver and robbed him of his watch, a knife and all the money he had—45 cents. When he recovered, he said, he caught a ride back to the city in a passing machine.

THREE HOLDUPS OF DRUG STORES IN 45 MINUTES

Crimes in Each Case, Which Yielded $234, Believed to Have Been
by Same Three Men.

Three drugstores, one of them a postoffice branch, were held up within 45 minutes last night by three men, believed to have been the same in each case. In one of the raids the robbers were routed empty-handed by the screams of the druggist's wife, but the other two yielded a total of $234.19, most of it coming from the postoffice cash register in the branch station.

The series began at 9:30 p. m. when the trio drove up in an automobile in front of the store of Richard Randall, 1501 Benton street, two of the men entering with revolvers. They found Randall writing at a desk in a rear room.

"Say, you"—one of the robbers began, but before he could finish Randall had tumbled to the floor behind the desk and was crawling toward a stairway, shouting to his wife, Elizabeth, to "bring me my gun." Mrs. Randall started to run downstairs to his aid, but caught sight of the two highwaymen and screamed until the intruders fled.

Twenty minutes later, three men answering the same description, held up Peter Speckart and his clerk in a store at 4100 West National Bridge avenue, ordering them to the basement. After obtaining $7 from one of the two cash registers, the robbers forced Speckart to come back and open the other, which yielded $20.

The third of the series took place at 10:15 and the drug store of Bohemil Kocak at 1309 South Twelfth street, which houses the postoffice branch, was the objective. The men forced Kocak and his clerk, Joseph Krupa, to stand behind the prescription counter while they took $117.19 from the Bohemil Kocak and $90 from that belonging to the drug store. Krupa also was robbed of $15, his own money.

At 11:50 p. m. three men entered the Hodiamont Garage, 1258 Hodiamont avenue, and asked Fred A. Phillips, the night manager, which one of the automobiles in the place was unlocked. "We don't want to hurt you," they added, "but we have got to have a good car."

MAYOR GIVES ADVICE TO JOB HUNTERS

Read Charter and Apply to Efficiency Board, Miller Tells Them

Mayor Miller today issued a statement telling of the seige to which job-hunters were subjecting him and advising all applicants for positions in the classified service of the city to make application through the Efficiency Board.

He referred to the fact that he has only "about 49 personal appointments to make" and that those who have been or will be made shortly, a law enforcement platform and he recalled that he was elected on a platform of law enforcement.

He said that he would not be able to take on more than 50 appointments. The Mayor's statement follows:

"I have been besieged by office seekers, men and women, applying for positions under the city administration. Few, if any, understand that the Mayor of the City of St. Louis has only a limited number of appointments.

"I suggest that all applicants for positions in the city get a copy of the charter and read it carefully relative to city employment. It was elected on a law enforcement platform which meant that he would enforce those laws that come under the jurisdiction of the chief executive. Therefore I must obey the laws before I can expect others to do so.

"The places which the Mayor has at his disposal have already been filled or will be filled within the next few weeks. There are about 40 positions in the unclassified service. All of these have been filled or will be filled within the next week or two. All other positions must be filled from the list of eligibles furnished by the Efficiency Board. Therefore, all applicants should first go to the Efficiency Board and obtain the rules and regulations pertaining to employment in the city government. I cannot legally accept anyone should not be expected to order any department head to appoint anyone. This would be a violation of my pledge to the people who elected me, and it is my intention to live up to the provisions of the charter."

DILLON MURDER DUE TO A WOMAN POLICE CONCLUDE

Physician Slain by or Over Feminine Acquaintance,
Is Opinion of Investigators

BELIEVE SLAYER WAS UNUSED TO FIREARMS

Conclusion Also Reached That Doctor Was Shot to Death by Someone Shorter Than Himself.

A woman, the police investigators have concluded, was either the perpetrator or the direct cause of the murder of Dr. William A. Dillon, shot last Thursday night on or near the corner of Francis Field, Washington University, where his body was found Friday.

The hard-living, pleasure-loving physician and athlete, with no home ties since his divorce two years ago, had feminine acquaintances, some of them of a kind to arouse the admiration and the jealousy of other men. The inquiry conducted by the police, while it has left them baffled as to fixing the crime upon an individual, has pointed in almost every way to the conclusion that a woman figured in the tragedy. It appears either that a woman was the principal actor, or that a man was the actual slayer, a woman furnished the occasion for the deed.

Conclusions Reached.
The direction taken by the fatal bullet indicates, in the opinion of the police investigators, that the shot was fired by someone of shorter stature than Dr. Dillon, and apparently by someone unused to firearms. The bullet, entering the neck below the right ear, ranged upward into the brain. It has been impossible to determine whether the other wound, in the left knee, was inflicted before or after the wound in the head. The wound in the knee, and the fact that the weapon was not found, removed at the outset any suggestion of suicide, and the theory of robbery has not been entirely entertained, as Dr. Dillon's gold watch and some money were in his pocket.

The place, within the inclosed athletic field, was one where a man would not have been likely to go at night without some special reason. The police investigators feel certain, from the position of the body when found, that the murder occurred at the place where it was found, and that the body was not carried there from some other place.

Two Women Questioned.
Two women have been questioned by the police thus far as to their association with Dr. Dillon. One was Miss Marie Addis of 4125 Madison boulevard, who told at the County Coroner's inquest Saturday of having accompanied him to a picture show Thursday night, saying she parted from him not long after 10 o'clock.

The other was Mrs. Rudolph E. Hammel of 6823 Kingsbury avenue, University City, whose acquaintance with Dr. Dillon was first made through telephone calls received on the switchboard at the Fairmont Hotel, Maryland and Blvd. avenues, where the physician lived.

Mrs. Hammel was questioned by Police Lieutenant Aylward and other investigators at intervals for eight hours Saturday afternoon and night, her husband being also questioned at that time. She told of her acquaintance with Dr. Dillon, but after the long questioning, the police investigators practically eliminated the Hammels from the inquiry, and they have not been questioned further.

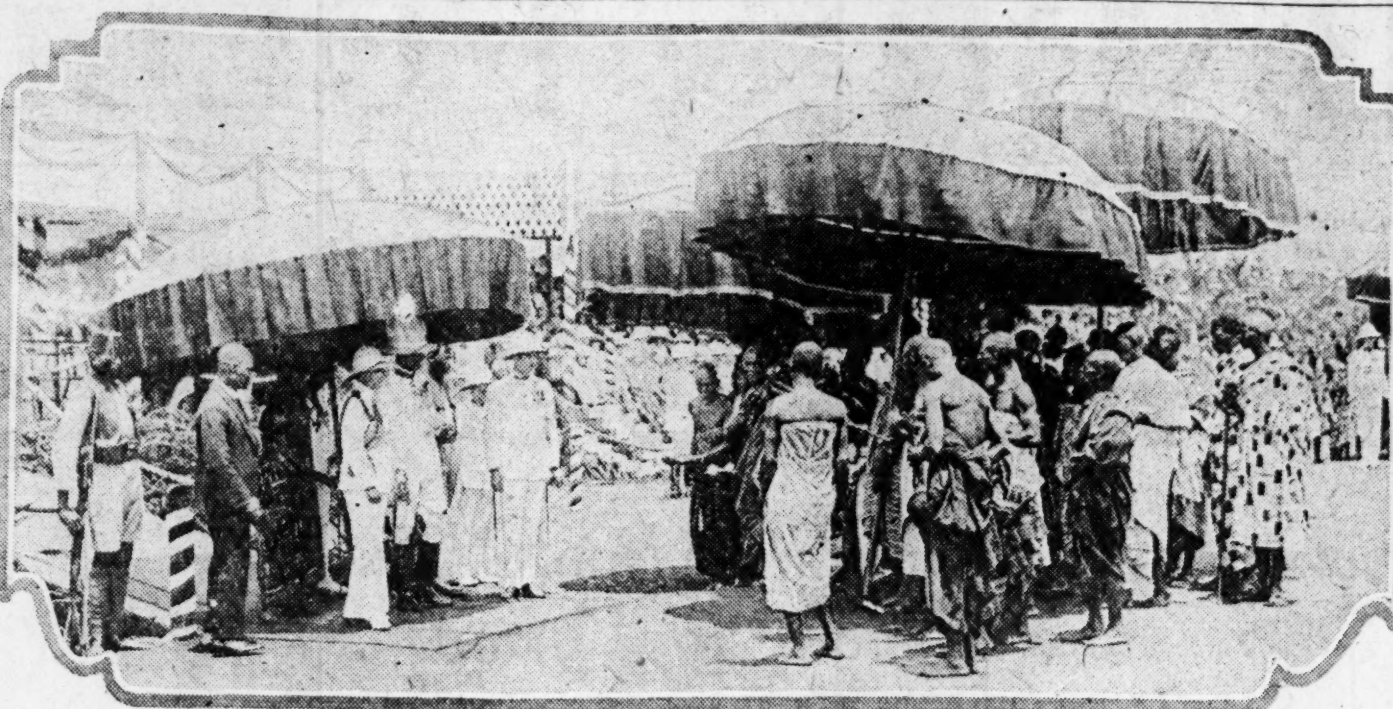

The police investigators now wish to question Miss Addis further, but she was said today to have left the city.

Phone Calls Checked.
Four telephone calls for Dr. Dillon came to the Fairmont Hotel between midnight Thursday and 8 a. m. Friday, from a woman living in an apartment house in the Grand and Washington boulevards neighborhood. The first three calls were taken by the night operator, who told the woman that she would notify Dr. Dillon when he returned. The last call came just after the day operator, Miss Eleanor Lynn, had gone on duty. Just after the news of Dr. Dillon's death had reached the hotel, Miss Lynn asked the woman what was wanted, and the woman said she wished to have Dr. Dillon call and treat her.

"If you're sick," the hotel operator replied, "you'd better call some other doctor, or you might be the way Dr. Dillon is now." The woman asked the girl what she meant, and the girl replied that Dr. Dillon was dead.

The police investigators have questioned the woman who made the telephone calls, and they have concluded themselves that she was a friend of Dr. Dillon, and did, as she said, wish immediate treatment from him on Thursday night. Thus they have eliminated her from the case.

Another telephone call, not yet explained, was received by Miss Addis at her Lindell boulevard home at 8 a. m. Friday. Miss Addis was called to the telephone and a woman's voice said: "Prepare for a shock." "What is it?" she asked. "Dr. Dillon is dead," the woman replied. The woman then ended the conversation by hanging up the telephone receiver and it has not been possible to trace the call to its source.

The only physical clue to the murder in the possession of the police is the .38-caliber cartridge found near the body. The bullet taken from the brain was of that caliber.

The railroad belt which was found on Francis Field, and which was regarded as a possible clue, was claimed yesterday by a newspaper photographer, who had lost it while making pictures of the place where the body was found.

$158,197 LISTED AS PERSONAL ESTATE OF JOHN KRATZ

Appraisal Does Not Include Country Home in Jefferson County and Real Estate Here.
An inventory of the estate of John Kratz, Republican politician and former cafe proprietor, who died Jan. 27, lists personal property of $158,197, besides a country home at Cedar Hill, Jefferson County, and a piece of real estate at Broadway and Lemay avenue, which are not appraised. The personal property includes notes valued at $125,255 and stock of $23,650.

Kratz's will placed the country home in trust 25 years for the use of his friends and, after various specific bequests to relatives and friends, gave the residue of the estate to a brother, Charles Kratz. To former State Supreme Court Judge Conway Elder, his attorney, Kratz gave all that remained due on a note for $15,000 signed by the latter's mother, Mrs. Josephine Elder, in August, 1923. At the time the will was filed former Judge Elder said the $15,000 note was a private business transaction which he did not care to discuss in detail, as he felt there was no public interest therein. He added that Kratz had been an old friend, and a client, both before and after Judge Elder was on the Supreme bench.

SENTENCED FOR CHILD'S DEATH

By the Associated Press.
TILLAMOOK, Ore., May 5.—Mrs. M. C. Paton yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of her grandchild, Silvia Louise Descomps, 4 years old, who died from the effects of a beating. She was sentenced to a term in the State penitentiary not to exceed 15 years. The child died April 21.

Real Estate Deals Made Negro Mayor Wealthy

Charles B. Jones of Brooklyn, Ill., Who Died Suddenly, Left $200,000 Estate —
Funeral Services Today.

To, unusual astuteness in real estate investments is laid the financial success of Charles B. Jones, negro Mayor of the village of Brooklyn, Ill., who died Sunday afternoon leaving an estate estimated by relatives and friends at between $200,000 and $300,000.

There are many monuments to Jones, pointed out by his friends in the village. The new school building, the hard road through the village, the stores, Jones brought them all to Brooklyn.

He died suddenly Sunday afternoon, only a few hours after he had driven his Studebaker sedan from Belleville. He had no chauffeur, despite his wealth. Physicians said death was due to high blood pressure and a weakened heart. Besides his widow, two brothers, John and William Jones, and a sister, Laura Jones, all of Urbana, survive him. All of them are college graduates.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS SATURDAY AS WAR MOTHERS' DAY

Miller Requests Each Citizen to Wear a Carnation in Honor of Those Who Lost Sons.

Mayor Miller today proclaimed Saturday, next, as "American War Mothers' day," and requested that each citizen wear a carnation in honor of the mothers whose sons died in service.

The proclamation pointed out that those who made the supreme sacrifice are resting, but that the sorrow of the mothers who surrendered them to their country's service is unmitigated.

Would Perpetuate Forest Week.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who acted this year as head of the American Forest Week Committee, has taken charge of plans to perpetuate forest week as an annual event. With the help of a standing committee named by him, he already has undertaken to effect a permanent organization.

STUDENTS HAUL WALES 2 MILES IN CARRIAGE, 90 IN SHADE

Tribute Paid to Prince's Sportsmanship on Visit to University at Stellenbosch.

By the Associated Press.
CAPETOWN, South Africa, May 5.—The reception of the Prince of Wales upon his visit to the Stellenbosch University sports ground yesterday was of a most hearty nature.

A young Dutch student of the University, in a welcoming speech on behalf of the students, thanked the Prince for the honor of his visit. The students, he said, loved nothing better than a real sportsman. It was not their pleasure to welcome one of the finest of sportsmen. Some of their heroes had been men who were jailed for political crimes or sent to the hospital for fractured bones. The Prince had not been in jail, but he knew what it was to be injured on several occasions.

The chancellor of the University jokingly asked the Prince whether he would like the students to run him down to the sports grounds where a large gathering of women was waiting to welcome him. Keeping up the joke, Wales said he supposed the students were rugby players and that it would be fine training for them. Thereupon 24 of them dragged him in an open carriage a distance of two miles and finished fresh, although the temperature in the shade was 90 degrees.

The grandstand and the spaces about it were packed with cheering crowds. A luncheon was served by dainty damsels, one of them a bob-haired beauty, being detailed to wait especially on the Prince. All the wines served were products of this mighty fruit district.

Just before leaving Stellenbosch, he posed for groups of young girls who had brought their cameras.

Transportation Strike in Paris.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 5.—Street car and auto bus services were suspended today in some sections of the city where the radical elements are strong, services everywhere were greatly crippled, and about one-third of all the transportation employees ceased work in a strike called as a result of the suspension of some transportation employees for not working on May Day. Car barns and power houses were guarded by troops and a policeman was stationed on each car that operated. Up to mid-afternoon no violence had been reported.

POLICE ARREST 140 MORE IN 'CLEAN UP'

43 Proprietors Are Taken Into Custody During Visits to 50 Saloons

The police made 140 arrests in the 24-hour period closing last midnight, in compliance with the "clean-up" campaign ordered by the new Police Board. Fifty saloons were visited by detectives during the day and 13 proprietors of establishments, in which liquor was found, taken into custody.

In two instances the opening of revolvers in saloons complicated matters. Detectives under Sgt. Coakley reported finding a loaded revolver in a booth at a saloon at 308 Morgan street. Three customers and the bartender were arrested and when all denied ownership of the weapon, one of the customers, a police character, was ordered held.

Police Revolver Is Found.
In the saloon of James Farrell, 3501 Garfield avenue, detectives reported finding a Police Department revolver under the bar. An attempt had been made to obliterate the inscription, "St. Louis Police Department," and the number on the revolver. Farrell, who was arrested when the searching party found a quantity of whisky and beer at his home, next door to the saloon, explained that he had purchased the revolver from a man in St. Louis County. An effort is being made to trace the ownership of the revolver in the belief that it was stolen from a policeman.

Two Other Arrests Made.
Two additional liquor arrests resulted from the finding of a bottle of whisky in an automobile following a collision between two machines at Dale and McCausland avenues, and from an attempt to pass a bottle of "moonshine" to a prisoner awaiting trial in Police Court.

Mrs. Irene Leroy, 32 years old, of 2033 Yale avenue, Maplewood, was ordered held for the Federal authorities when a policeman from the Mounted District reported finding a bottle partly filled with whisky in her automobile after she collided with the machine of Ray Bates, 2942 Theodore avenue, at 4 p. m. yesterday. United States Commissioner Jacoby, who chanced to be passing the scene at the time of the collision, took charge of the case. A man describing himself as Frank Zingel, 23, 2663 South Grand boulevard, who was riding with Mrs. Leroy, was also arrested. In addition to the liquor charge, Mrs. Leroy was charged with careless driving.

Gus Hissman, 35, a chauffeur, of 222 South Fourteenth street, was arrested by Detectives Stowell and Dietz yesterday morning when he attempted to pass a bottle of "moonshine" whisky to a prisoner confined in the rear of Police Court No. 1. A warrant charging possession of liquor was issued against Hissman.

Beer Raid by Robbers in Launch.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, May 5.—Three armed men early today raided the Regal Beer Dock at Amherstburg, Ontario, and escaped with 150 cases of beer and whisky. John McGinnis, caretaker of the dock, reported to the Canadian authorities. McGinnis said one of the trio kept him covered with a revolver while the other two loaded all the liquor on the dock into their launch. They headed their craft across the river toward Detroit, he said.

NIGHT SESSIONS OF POLICE COURT LIKELY

Judge Rosecan Adopts Policy of Hearing All Cases in Detail

Night Police Court sessions may become necessary because of the crowded dockets of the City Courts, particularly City Court No. 1.

Harry Rosecan, Judge in No. 1, has begun a policy of hearing each case in detail and as a result court sessions have run well past 5 o'clock in the afternoon, where before, under Judge Homer, they were usually over by 1 o'clock.

As a result of the present long sessions, some of the employees of the court are now reporting for work at 6:30 a. m. to have the court records ready when court convenes at 9 o'clock. Yesterday, with 200 cases on the docket, court did not adjourn until 6:20, and attaches had to stay until 7 o'clock and later balancing collections and checking up the dockets.

Today there were 276 cases on the docket, and indications were that court would go well into the evening. As the charter specifies working hours from 9 to 5 for city employees, some of the City Court attaches are beginning to complain.

With the summer at hand and the number of traffic cases mounting daily, particularly in No. 1, which has most of the downtown business district, it is likely that night sessions will be held in the near future. Since there is no present provision for an additional staff for night court, it is probable that the day attaches will have to work during the night sessions, too.

not be interlined or scratched except in specific instances. An opinion by former Attorney-General Barrett upheld this view. Betting commissioners said yesterday that of the $1,000,000 which had been wagered on the election was still being held by stakeholders pending a decision on the contest. Mayor Miller's charge about the interest of professional gamblers related to the fact that many of them, being heavy losers, desired to see the contest go on in the hope they might evade payment.

Republicans who wagered on Mayor Miller are unpaid and the money they placed is also being held, which accounts in some degree for the antipathy toward a contest.

Mayor Miller, discussing today a report that his brother, J. C. Miller, had wagered heavily on the election, said he presumed he had bet but did not know to what extent.

"I have heard," the Mayor said, "that some $600,000 was wagered that I would be elected. I do not know if those who wagered have received their money."

J. C. Miller could not be seen, being out of town.

PETITIONS ON CITY AND COUNTY MERGER READY

Requests for Naming of Freeholders to Work Out Plan to Be Filed Tomorrow.

Petitions for the appointment of the Board of Freeholders which is to draft a plan of whole or partial merger of St. Louis and St. Louis County will be certified to the city and county authorities tomorrow. The city petitions have been ready for certification for several weeks, but were held until those in the county were found to contain sufficient signatures. Both sets were circulated by the Metropolitan Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The city petitions will be certified to Mayor Miller and those in the county to Circuit Judge McElhinney. Within 10 days after tomorrow the Mayor will call the 16 Circuit Judges of the city into conference with him and they will appoint nine city members of the Board of Freeholders. Within the same time Judge McElhinney will call the other Circuit Judge, the Probate Judge and the three County Judges together and they will appoint the county's nine freeholders. The appointments must be made within 30 days after tomorrow.

Not more than five of each group of nine may be members of the same political party, so it is likely the board will comprise 19 Republicans and eight Democrats. The board will act as a unit and not as two groups, and must hold its first meeting promptly at city hall. Subsequent meetings will be where it pleases. The board must report its plan within a year, and then the plan will be subject to approval of city and county voters at separate elections.

The freeholders will receive no salary.

LAWYER STRUCK BY ANOTHER OVER REMARK ABOUT GIRL

A question concerning the charm of a young woman plaintiff in a damage suit led the defendants' attorney, Wayne Ely, to punch the plaintiff's counsel, Jerry Mulloy, in the face, in Circuit Judge Ross-kop's court yesterday.

The plaintiff, Miss Margaret Clancy, 18 years old, of 4032 Humphrey street, was suing Steve Gamba and Frank Grassi for $7500 for injuries suffered when Gamba's car, driven by Grassi, struck her at Russell place and Arsenal street on Aug. 13, 1932.

In his closing argument, Mulloy told the jury his client had been unable to ride in an automobile longer than half an hour at a time since the accident. Then Ely, arguing, said he couldn't imagine anyone desiring to take so attractive a person home so soon. (Mulloy had the closing talk, and accused Ely of insulting the plaintiff.)

"It's a lie," Ely cried out, as he jumped up and struck Mulloy. Attaches, interfered and Ely apologized to the Court. A little later the jury brought in a verdict of $800 for the plaintiff.

WRIT TO STOP OLIVE

ST. WIDENING SOUGHT

Property Owners Argue Over Charter Provisions Before
Supreme Court en Banc.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 2.—Technical niceties of the property condemnation sections of the St. Louis city charter were argued before the Supreme Court en banc yesterday by attorneys for the City of St. Louis and a group of property owners. The property owners are seeking to block further proceedings in the courts on the widening of Olive street, from Twelfth boulevard to Channing avenue.

The case arose in Supreme Court through applications by the objecting property owners for a writ of prohibition, to prevent the Circuit Court in St. Louis, from proceeding further with the Olive street condemnation suit, which has been in the lower court since November, 1920. The writ was sought on the ground that alleged legal defects in the suit originally filed by the City deprived the Circuit Court of jurisdiction.

These objections were not raised, however, attorneys for the City said, until the commissioners appointed to assess benefits and damages had filed their report in Circuit Court. It was charged the objections now raised to validity of the proceeding were not in good faith, as the objecting property owners had abided by the proceedings until the final assessments were fixed by the commissioner.

Property owners seeking the writ are, A. J. Siegel, Fred L. Cornwell, James E. Withrow, Elisha H. Gregory, Frances Louise Carr Smith and others.

Attorneys for the objecting property owners contended the city failed to file a proper condemnation suit in court within six months after passage of the ordinance directing the suit, as required by charter. The City filed its petition within the time, but the point raised is whether the charter requires that initial petition to set out in complete detail all of the various property owners and interests affected. The City contends the charter does not require all such interests to be named in the petition filed within six months, but merely requires the action to be commenced within that time, and that the petition may be amended thereafter.

32 OF ALLEGED MOB INDICTED

Eight Charged With Participation
In Operation as Salesman.

By the Associated Press. — WILLIAMSTON, N. C., May 2.—True bills of indictment against 32 defendants, charging them with being members of the mob that removed Joseph Needleman, tobacco salesman, from the Martin County jail on Sunday morning, March 25, and performed a serious operation on him, were returned by a Martin County grand jury yesterday. Eight of this number are specifically charged with participating in the operation and 24 are charged with being accessories before the fact.

This is the first time in the history of North Carolina that an alleged mob, in its entirety, has been indicted.

The grand jury also returned an indictment against Needleman, charging him with making an attack on a young white woman. Sixteen of those indicted entered pleas of guilty to the charge of being accessories before the fact.

GIRLS! USE LEMON TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweet, fragrant, lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It cannot irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It cannot be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

HEART DISEASE CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

Body of City Sanitarium Inmate Exhumed and Examined at Coroner's Order.

The death of Mrs. Marie K. Lamb, 65 years old, at the City Sanitarium on March 30 was caused by chronic heart disease with nephritis as a contributing cause, Dr. B. W. Klippel has reported to the Coroner after an autopsy on her body which was exhumed at Calvary Cemetery.

The death certificate signed by Dr. Otto V. Lieb of the sanitarium staff gave cerebral hemorrhage as the cause of death, with apoplexy as a contributing factor. Dr. Lieb will be asked to explain this, when the inquest is resumed Thursday. The exhumation and autopsy were ordered by Coroner Vitt yesterday, after witnesses at the inquest had given conflicting testimony, some charging that Mrs. Lamb died shortly after an attendant had held the patient's head under water during a cold bath, and others denying any mistreatment. The sanitarium authorities did not then report the death to the Coroner for investigation, and the inquest was not ordered until a month later.

BRITON, 36, WHO DESERTED WIFE, 66, IS DIVORCED

Albert Horatio Nelson, Second Earl to Earl of Nelson, Was Accused of Misconduct.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York World and Sun. LONDON, May 5.—Albert Horatio Nelson, second heir to the present Earl of Nelson, has been divorced by his wife on grounds of misconduct. They were married in January last year, Mrs. Nelson then being a widow of 65 and Nelson only 31.

According to "Puck's Magazine" Albert Francis Joseph Horatio Nelson is the eldest son of the Hon. Edward Agar Horatio Nelson, who is heir to his brother, the fourth Earl of Nelson.

Several months after their marriage Nelson went away, leaving a note saying, "I feel like a sparrow in a canary's cage and I must feel free." There was a reconciliation for a short time, but he left Mrs. Nelson again last November.

In addition to the divorce suit, Mrs. Nelson said yesterday she had taken proceedings against her husband for return of a £10,000 check which she said, she had advanced him to buy a farm, which he failed to do, and also to prevent him from selling a £10,000 ($10,000) estate she had bought after their marriage.

CROSS BLESSED BY POPE INCLUDED IN BURGLAR'S LOOT

Mrs. Laura Garneau of St. Charles Had Intended to Send Jewelry to State Fair in August

Mrs. Laura Garneau, 311 North Fifth street, St. Charles, was visited by a burglar Sunday night who escaped with a three-inch gold cross blessed by Pope Pius IX, a pair of gold cuff buttons which have been handed down in the family for more than 150 years, and a wedding ring from the family jewelry case.

Mrs. Garneau had intended to send the stolen jewelry to the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia next August.

A F. of L. Chief Calls Law Best Enacted for Missouri Industry.

Spoke to the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 5.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, last night spoke in favor of the Missouri workmen's compensation law.

While the law was not perfect either for labor or for capital, it was a start in the right direction, Green said, and it was the best legislation ever enacted for Missouri industry. The law was introduced by both the Associated Industries and employers' organization, and the Missouri Federation of Labor, headed by R. T. Wood of Springfield. Wood visited Green last night before the labor leader departed for Washington.

Both united in opposing the position now being circulated in St. Louis, Kansas City and a few other cities for a referendum on the compensation law.

Mrs. Forrest Declared Insane.

By the Associated Press. WALTERS, OK., May 5.—Mrs. A. B. Forrest, indicted jointly with her husband for the murder last February of their 13-year-old son-in-law, George Hicks, was declared insane by District Judge Wells here, yesterday, and ordered sent to the Norman Asylum. The Court overruled a similar plea for her husband. The shooting occurred when Hicks and his young bride returned from their elopement.

LLOYD SUPPORTERS LOSING STATE JOBS

"House Cleaning" in Progress at Penitentiary—Highway Department Is Polled

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, May 5.—Republican State employees who supported Hiram Lloyd of St. Louis for the Republican nomination for the governorship against Gov. Baker in the primary campaign last summer gradually are disappearing from the State payrolls through the administration "house cleaning."

The "house cleaning" is progressing at intervals at the State Penitentiary, where a number of the employees supported Lloyd in the primary. The Penitentiary Board is headed by Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, closest political adviser of the Governor. Enloe is regarded as "boss" of the penitentiary and directs most of the business and employment.

Resignations Requested.
Resignations of several of the employees who were Lloyd supporters were requested this week. It was learned, and other such requests are said to be pending. At least one employee placed on the political block demanded a written request for his resignation, stating cause. It was said, but this has not been forthcoming.

State Senator Larry Brunk of Aurora, said to have the distinction of being the only Republican Senator who supported Baker in the primary campaign, has been appointed purchasing agent for the penal institutions at a salary of $2000 a year. The constitutional prohibition against members of the Legislature being appointed to State offices during their terms is not regarded by State officials as binding in Brunk's case, on the ground the position is not an "office."

Road Department Polled.
Outstanding projects of Republican leaders that "too many" Democrats are employed in the Highway Department has caused a poll to be taken of the employees of the department, to determine their political preferences. The poll also is extending out into the local construction divisions of the department in the State.

Heads of the department today asserted the poll had not been requested by the administration and declared the names of the employees had not been listed according to party affiliation. The poll of office employees showed 73 of one party and 76 of the other, but it was not disclosed which party predominated. Chairman Theodore Gary, Republican, of the Highway Commission, recently stated that he believed that Democrats predominated among the employees of the department. He asserted he was not concerned with political affiliations of employees, but only in maintaining the efficiency of the department.

PRIZE AWARDS IN SALES CAMPAIGNS HELD TO BE LEGAL

Warrant Refused Against Merchant Issuing Coupons Giving Chance in the Drawings.

Sales campaigns conducted by business associations at which prizes are given away on coupons obtained with the purchases of merchandise are not violations of the gambling laws, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Mueller ruled yesterday in refusing to issue a warrant in a case of this nature.

Capt. McGuire of the Wyoming Street District, desirous of obtaining an opinion on the legality of a campaign being conducted by the Jefferson-Gravois Business Circle, sent a policeman to a jewelry store on South Jefferson avenue, where he made a purchase and received a coupon entitling him to a chance on the prizes to be given away at the end of the campaign July 22. After making the purchase the policeman reported the transaction to Mueller, who refused to issue a warrant for the man from whom the purchase was made.

Today's Beauty Talk

Industry develops the information that it is dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of Canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be as fluffy; it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

URGES AID OF PUBLIC TO CORRECT COURT PROCEDURE

gested 2 per cent. Currie expressed his keen disappointment over the failure of the bill to raise the educational requirements of an applicant for a license to practice law. "This leaves Missouri," he said, "in the unenviable position of being one of the most backward States in the Union, so far as educational requirements for admission to the bar are concerned. The only hope of remedying this very deplorable situation is through a campaign of education conducted by the various bar associations, assisted by the press."

He also expressed regret over the failure of the bill to increase the number of Circuit Judges of this city. "That matter," he said, "seriously affects the whole community. It should be said, in fairness to the Circuit Court bench, that a study of the situation by the Judiciary Committee shows that our bench disposes of as many cases as is on the average disposed of in the cities of approximately the size of St. Louis. The present bench is disposing of as many cases as did their predecessors and in the year 1924 disposed of more than their predecessors had averaged. Nevertheless, we know that our docket becomes more congested each year. Litigation is increasing each year, the community is growing and will continue to grow. We cannot secure more Judges before the Legislature of 1927 convenes. In the face of the practically unanimous demand of the bar and the press of this city for additional Judges, the recent Legislature refused to grant us any relief."

More Judges Needed Here.
"We asked for and sorely needed six additional Judges. The city through the comptroller's office, objected to six on the ground that the city could not stand the additional expense, but agreed to three. The House of Representatives passed the bill providing for three Judges and it was killed in the Senate. All of the St. Louis Senators seemed to be in favor of it. The chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate stated that we should have no trouble in getting it through the Senate, but some nigger in the wood pile, that I was never able to locate, killed it. Outside of a small, selfish interest that does not want litigation expedited, but profits by the law's delays, there could not have been any opposition to this bill. We who believe that justice delayed is justice denied, who believe that the welfare of our clients and the community as a whole demands a sufficient number of Judges to properly handle the court business of the city, have been challenged by this elusive but very effective opposition, and it is necessary for us to carry on this fight to a victory in 1927."

The Election of Officers.
After the president's annual address, the association proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. George C. Willson, 34 years old, of 16 Thornby place, was elected president, defeating William S. Bodal, who later with the retiring president and Tyrrell Williams, professor of law at Washington University, was elected a vice president.

James J. Seeley was re-elected secretary by acclamation. John J. Nangle was chosen treasurer. William R. Gilbert was elected a member of the Executive Committee and William R. Orthwein, Thomas McDonald and Edward A. Ferrenbach were named as members of the Admissions Committee.

Willson is the youngest attorney ever elected as president of the association. He is a native of Nevada, Mo., and has practiced law in St. Louis since 1914. He attended Missouri University and completed his academic course in 1911. He is a member of the law firm of Taylor, Chasoff & Willson and is a brother of Election Commissioner Harry C. Willson.

SEEK TO TRACE BEER BROUGHT TO ST. LOUIS

Group Agent Goshorn Investigates Report That It Is Made in Murphysboro.

Prohibition agents here are keeping a vigilant watch for real beer being shipped into St. Louis in carload lots from a brewery in Murphysboro, Ill.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by the agents last week to seize a car of beer on a railroad siding here. The agents arrived too late, the beer having been removed before their arrival.

Approximately 700 cases of 273 per cent beer, consigned from the Stecher Brewery of Murphysboro, were seized by Federal agents here last March. On shipment from the Murphysboro brewery, consigned to "Daniel Grenier, foot North Market," was seized after a patrolman had seen several trucks haul away some of the beer. Another seizure was that of a truck with 61 cases of real beer, which it was being unloaded into the basement of a saloon at 202 North Sixth street.

Other instances where the beer has been successfully shipped into St. Louis and unloaded have been reported to the prohibition agents and Group Chief Goshorn said today that he is making an investigation of the brewery's activities with reference to St. Louis.

Group Chief Struggs of East St. Louis said today he found no evidence of breweries in his district, in which the Murphysboro brewery is located, being engaged in the manufacture of beer in an investigation he made within the last three months. Assistant District Attorney Walcott of East St. Louis denied report that the Federal grand jury, which convened there yesterday, was to investigate the Murphysboro brewery.

The Stecher Brewing Co. has been a frequent offender of the Volstead act, having paid a total of $11,000 in fines since prohibition went into effect. It has entered four pleas of guilty to charges of violations of the Volstead act.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Feel Tired, Weak, All Worn Out?

Is a constant backache keeping you upset? Feel all tired out—so nervous and dispirited you can hardly keep going?

Then look to your kidneys! Your kidneys rid the body of poisonous waste. But if they lag, impurities accumulate and cause slow poisoning of the whole system. Then one is apt to suffer backache, stabbing pains, headaches, dizziness, and other annoying kidney irregularities.

Don't risk neglect. If your kidneys are sluggish, help them with a diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. They are praised the world over. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say St. Louis Folks:

E. SINX, Prop. of Delicatessen store, 4225 Fair Ave., says: "A cold settled in my kidneys and put them out of fix. My back was lame and aching and when I stooped catches took me across my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly. After using Doan's Pills I was cured. The symptom has returned."

MRS. A. C. RICHARDSON, 4132 W. Greenleaf Place, says: "My back ached and I had a lameness across my kidneys. Headaches often came over me and my sight blurred by the spots and specks. My kidneys were too active, but they were times when they didn't act. After using Doan's Pills, purchased at Bauer's Drug Store, rid me of the attack."

HOUGHTON TELLS EU
RESTORATION OF PE
PRICE OF FURTHER

Credits Will Cease Unless Old V
Rows by Mutual Consent, Am

Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, May 2.—Alanson B. Houghton, at the Plims' banquet, in his first speech as American ambassador to the court of St. James, in effect warned Europe that unless peace is restored in the world by co-operation and faith, United States credits to Europe will cease. Although he stated he had no particular opinion in mind, Houghton's statement should they decline to help means a reconciliation of peoples shall mean real peace, not armistice between wars, need no further assistance from American investors.

Houghton's underlying thought was that the United States had to finance Central Europe for the last few years as a necessary step toward making reconstruction possible, but that since the emergency has passed, present efforts toward settlement of Europe by mutual consent, or the United States, interested in speculative advance, will render no further financial assistance.

America Not Taking Sides.
Houghton's gathering, including Prime Minister Baldwin, Cabinet Ministers and the Lord Chancellor, took the speech as a but unmistakable threat by the United States to any nation or nations which should hinder peace-making and lendence toward the economic tending to prevent although Houghton was careful to indicate that the United States is not offering advice or assistance.

Houghton's speech was a surprise, and it was because of this that those who were present, including Lord Robert Cecil, Viscount Bessborough, Sir John Simon, Secretary for Home Affairs, the Ambassadors from Belgium, Japan, Portugal and Brazil, the Mayor of Canterbury, Colonel H. H. Kitchener, Sir Adolphus Douglas, Sir Samuel Hoare, the Lord Craven and Lord Astor, Desborough, chairman of the House of Commons, were present.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight, denounce, and expose all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Christian Hospital Fund.

SOLICITORS, chosen from the ranks of busy men, will give the next few days in an endeavor to raise $150,000 for the new building of the Christian Hospital in North St. Louis, which is the final amount needed to complete the structure. This is a very worthy asking and should be made up quickly by the generous contributions of St. Louis citizens. It is a nonsectarian hospital, open to all, and therefore a civic benefit. And it is the only hospital in North St. Louis.

If those who will ultimately contribute to the campaign, and there should be more than enough to make up this small amount asked, would be ready to subscribe when they are asked by solicitors, this of itself would forward to success the effort. As stated, the men doing this work are busy men and deserve a quick response from those they will solicit.

While the building of this hospital, anywhere in the city, should command the support of all, which is true in this case, there is a particular reason why the owners of industries in North St. Louis should respond liberally to this fund. They owe it as a duty to their own employees, themselves and their families, as well as to that section of the city. They should say to themselves that this campaign for $150,000 shall not fail, and then by their giving and influence assure its success.

The Zoning Enabling Act.

AT the direction of the City Plan Commission, I desire to extend the appreciation of that body to the Post-Dispatch for its most generous support of the measure just signed by the Governor which will permit St. Louis to again undertake zoning.

During the several months that this enabling act was under consideration by the Missouri Legislature, editorials and other articles appeared in your paper which were most helpful in securing favorable action on this legislation, which means so much to the future well-being of St. Louis.

My associates and I are mindful of the splendid service rendered to our work and hope to merit your continued support.

E. J. RUSSELL, Chairman.

Where to Send Igoe Contributions.

PLEASE correct address of Democratic City Central Committee as published in your paper of May 4 under "Letters from the People." The address of the committee is 618-620 Tower Building, Sixth and Olive streets. Anyone wishing to mail checks for Mr. Igoe's contest, mail to Democratic City Central Committee or to Joseph H. Brogan, treasurer.

JOS. J. MESTRES, Chairman.

A Tragic Comedy.

Hal! Hal! Hal! The Police Circus is over, but we still have with us that boisterous police comedy, "The Suppression of Crime." It is still going strong, although some of the lines are a little threadbare, especially that gag about the boy who stole the stamps to play the races—that sounds "pikerish" in these days of lucrative holdups running into the thousands. I would suggest they delete that gag and insert one about the boys who loot the banks to play the stock market. Suppose the general run of police intelligence thinks the stock market is a place to buy horses and mules and the wheat pit is a grain elevator. Shh! This is an "anonymous" tip that they are gambling dens and all the brokers and speculators should be charged with "vagrancy" along with the lotto players and handbooks men.

Forget the murders and holdups and on with the play!

AN EARTHLY BEING.

Therapeutic Use of Mercury Lamps.

IN your issue of even date, Mr. George E. Mix discusses the mercury vapor lamp which he claims "was invented by Americans, in the United States, in early 1920, and has been in use in the physiological department of Washington University in the Barnes Hospital Building," etc., etc.

The undersigned wishes to assure your informant that the value of the mercury vapor lamp has been recognized by the medical profession for many years. For example, on March 13, 1902, M. S. Mayou, an eminent London eye surgeon, reported the results of examinations of the retina and of other parts of the interior of the eye, as made with red-free light obtained from a "mercury vapor lamp." (Transactions of the Ophthalmological Society of the United Kingdom, vol. 23, 1903, page 339.) JAMES MOORES BALL.

Street Workers' Conditions.

IN behalf of the street repairers and cleaners, we hope our esteemed Mayor will better our working conditions. We are satisfied with the $3 per day we are receiving, if we could make better time. We only work from April to November, seven months in a year. Besides, we are docked for rainy days, holidays and paydays. The bosses over us get paid all the year around, while we are laid off five months in the fall. Please publish the above and you will confer a great favor on us.

FAIR PLAY.

MAYOR MILLER SHRIEKS.

The filling of the petition of William L. Igoe's contest for the mayoralty brought a shriek from the city hall. The wicked are still pursuing the righteous Mr. Miller.

Commenting on the contest, Mayor Miller said that Igoe was being "used as an instrument of a few disappointed men. He is being used as an instrument for the benefit of a few professional gamblers and a few men who style themselves political strategists and who have in view something more than the interests of Mr. Igoe."

It is gratifying to note that Mr. Igoe is now, in the opinion of Mr. Miller, an honorable man, "a loyal citizen" whose "public utterances and activities clearly show that he has not put his individual self before the public welfare." But Mr. Igoe is the tool of wicked men, who seek to destroy the welfare of the people of St. Louis and blight the city's future, by substituting Igoe for Miller as Mayor. Before the election Igoe was the tool of gangsters. Now, in the legal contest for the mayoralty, he is the tool of professional gamblers. The contest is a wicked conspiracy of professional gamblers to win their bets, and villainous politicians to capture the spoils.

It takes two to gamble. If professional gamblers put their money on Igoe, there must have been professional gamblers who put their money on Miller. If gamblers are interested in putting Igoe in, there are gamblers just as much interested in keeping Miller in. And so with the politicians. From the Miller standpoint, the whole question of who was elected Mayor of St. Louis hangs on the interest of gamblers and spoilsmen.

It seems that the legal committee, composed of eminent lawyers, some of them former Judges, Judge Priest, Judge Blair, Judge McDonald, former U. S. Assistant District Attorney Wayne Ely, decided that there was ground for a contest, that a contest ought to be brought, in the interest of professional gamblers and spoilsmen. Former Judge McDonald, former U. S. Assistant District Attorney Ely, attorneys for Igoe, represent professional gamblers and spoilsmen.

There is one truth in what Mayor Miller said, although the proper application of his utterance is different from that he gave it. He said "the result of this contest has a most vital bearing, not only on every citizen of the city of St. Louis, but it vitally affects the theory on which our Government was founded, and the theory on which it must be managed and conducted, if we are to survive as the greatest nation on earth."

The thing that vitally affects every citizen of St. Louis and the theory upon which our Government was founded is not the holding of the office of Mayor on the face of the returns, but the holding of the office by the man who was actually elected by the voters of St. Louis. The theory upon which our Government was founded is that the people rule, and that their will, expressed through the ballot box, shall be put into effect. This theory and principle are violated whenever any man holds an office to which he has not been elected by a majority or plurality of the votes, honestly and properly counted. If men hold offices to which they are not entitled, for whom a majority or plurality of the votes have not been cast; if they hold office through the defeat of the will of the people by a miscount of votes, by fraud or mistakes or misrepresentation, or by improper rules of counting, or any other improper or illegal method, then the theory and principle on which our Government is founded are overthrown, and democracy cannot survive.

The issue of the mayoralty contest is whether Mr. Miller or Mr. Igoe is entitled to the office by a fair and legal count of the votes; whether the face of the returns represents the will of a majority of the voters. There is evidence that the face of the returns does not represent the will of the voters, but that their intent in voting was defeated by the official regulations under which the ballots were counted. It is the decision of this question that hangs upon the recount of the ballots. We repeat emphatically what we have said before, that no man ought to want to hold an office to which he is not clearly entitled, and that if he does hold the office without a clear title, that is the thing that strikes at the foundation of our Government.

Times and men have changed. When Rolla Wells, a citizen of honor and probity, and one of the best Mayors St. Louis ever had, was elected Mayor over Col. Parker, the question of the validity of his election was raised. Col. Parker charged that he was defeated by fraud. Instead of shrinking from the charge and denouncing Col. Parker and his supporters, Mayor Wells invited investigation. He offered a reward of $7000 for evidence of fraud.

The vital issue in this contest is who was actually elected Mayor by the votes of the people. Every good citizen is interested in this decision. There cannot be good government nor can democracy survive unless the will of the people prevails at the polls.

JOHN HAY'S BIRTHPLACE TODAY.

John Hay, one of America's most noted Secretaries of State, and incidentally a poet of no mean standing, was born at Salem, Ind., not far from the geographic center of the United States. Native of Indiana, which has just enacted the most drastic code of prohibition legislation ever conceived, how was it that John Hay, the poet, came to write that immortal ode to Liberty which contains the lines:

For always, in thine eyes, O Liberty,
Shines that high light by which the world is saved.

And though thou slay us, we will trust in thee.
If John Hay were now living in Indiana and merely possessed a small quantity of intoxicating liquor, he would be liable to a jail sentence of from 30 days to six months and a fine of from $100 to $500. If he carried it on his person, or gave it to a friend, he would be liable to the same penalty. If someone, without his knowledge, put half a pint into his bag, and it was discovered, he would be jailed and fined unless he could prove his innocence.

What ails Indiana? Her people have always been intensely patriotic, being only second to Kansas in furnishing troops in the Civil War. But also, in that war, the State was plagued by the formation of secret, treasonable societies known as Knights of the Golden Circle, and later Sons of Liberty. They had "circles within circles" and mysterious rites, with blood-curdling oaths.

And now it is the Ku Klux Klan, especially strong in Indiana, and especially antagonistic to that ideal American liberty of which John Hay sang. Indiana is also a thoroughly rural State, having only one city of over 100,000 inhabitants. Hence it is governed by rural legislators, with what may be called a hard-cider constituency. Are not these two facts sufficient to account for Indiana's legislative repudiation of John Hay? Poor Indiana!

THE APPEAL TO KELLOGG.

The latest appeal to the State Department for joining the World Court and co-operating with the League of Nations, voiced by Prof. Manley O. Hudson and other representatives of the League of Nations Non-partisan Association, was more of a demonstration than an attempt launched with the expectancy of immediate action.

The State Department is not now the obstacle to international co-operation. The President is for the World Court and Secretary Kellogg as Senator was one of the original "mild" reservationists favoring the League. The real stumbling block is the Senate, before which representations already have been made by the group which appealed to Kellogg. And the Senate, it seems, can be reached eventually only through the slow and grueling process of appeal to public opinion against the handicap of political prejudice and against politicians and newspapers that would find it embarrassing to reverse themselves.

Because the work of sowing prejudice, of spreading misinformation and appealing to fright has been so thorough, the burden of public persuasion through reason, tolerance and tact is unduly heavy. Correspondingly greater is the credit to which this heroic group of disinterested, conscientious civic leaders is entitled. Any Senate which is more than half worthy would recognize a meritorious effort for what it is worth and join in the movement to lead public opinion in the right direction rather than wait to be driven by it.

WHEN MEN WERE MEN.

Prof. Charles G. Shaw, who puts "life" into philosophy at New York University, diverts the subject of popular discussion from the masculinity of modern women to the femininity of modern men. John L. Sullivan, with his mighty biceps, has been supplanted as a national hero by Rudolph Valentino, with his patent-leather semi-bob. The male flapper, furthermore, has been pretty well established as a definite type.

But Prof. Shaw slips a bit of insidious propaganda into his scientific analysis. He declares, in effect, that, when men began to discard the whiskers of the Hayes-Blaine era, the tortures of starched linen and the good old mellow tobacco pipe, they ceased to be men and not only began to ape women but exposed themselves to raids by the opposite sex on their hitherto undisputed domain.

Prof. Shaw might just as well get it out of his head that railing at the femininity of men is going to shame them back into whiskers and boiled shirts. Men have enjoyed an emancipation from the old tyrannies of male quite as appreciable as that of women. They are debared from decollete only by the unkindness of nature. Women can annex the boiled shirts, if they wish, and anything else that was man's.

The fact is that men and women, minus the monstrous devices of the modistes, are less different than they thought they were, and a common emancipation leads toward a degree of uniformity. And whatever of mutual interest is lost in diversity is compensated in genuineness and candor.

MR. O'NEIL'S ELYSIUM.

Who shall enter Eden's radiant fields of asphodel? For whom shall be opened the golden door which leads into Elysium? Long before Achilles stormed the walls of Troy, long before Abraham's flocks multiplied in Mesopotamian greenery, this was a thing which agitated men's breasts. Even now nearly every man has his own private idea of the kind of persons who form the elect.

George O'Neill, whose play, "The Dreaming Brow," was produced by The Players of St. Louis, is one of these. "The Dreaming Brow" assays high in poetic values, yet to witness it is a sad hour for Philistia. Mr. O'Neill's Elysium is barred to the Bedesmen and the Brute, to the King and the Courtisan, to the Warrior and the Profligate. But his golden door is opened to the Dreaming Brow, or the Poet and the poet.

We to whom the rondsou and the ballade are but names, we who don't know an lambus from a dactyl, who never soared on the golden wings of poetry, must view with alarm this idea of Mr. O'Neill's. If his is an authentic voice, what is to become of us, prosy ones, who are neither Bedesmen nor Brutes, and certainly not Poets. In fact, what in hell is to become of us?

Of course, there is one saving thought. Maybe that mysterious land behind Mr. O'Neill's golden door is a special sort of place, like Greenwich Village or the left bank of the Seine. If that's so, we're comforted, for wouldn't it be awful—to give but one example—to be cowed by Amy Lowell's ample shade for all eternity?

LIBERTY IN OLD MADRID.

Spain under the directorate has been made safe for Kings—and sings. Therefore it highly satisfies Alfonso. "Nothing has changed in our customary life," he told the Tharad brothers, French writers, except that one may walk about with money in his pocket without fear of being attacked, factories are at work, there are—for good reasons—no strikes, and employers are safe from assassination by their workmen. "Whether the workmen are better satisfied the King does not say—at least they are disarmed and have been taught the better part of valor."

Of course, there are differing views on the part of no lesser authorities than the King himself. For instance, the Tharad brothers have found ex-Premier Romanones saying: "Was it necessary to put all Spain in prison, for in truth we are in prison." As to the King, Romanones still professes a deep personal devotion and then declares it to be "inadmissible that a country like Spain should remain for nearly two years deprived of all political rights."

But have the Spanish people no political rights? Here is where the cheerful monarch knocks his critics for a fall. In New York or London, "those countries of liberty" he pounds the table—"you can't drink in the cafes after midnight. In Madrid you can sing your head off until 5 in the morning if that amuses you."

And, of course, if you may sing you will have something to sing about. What revolutionary chatter can survive so complete a recognition of the rights of man?

TOM HICK.

Tom Hick was a hunter (but never a sage).
Who lived in a dim, geological age;
When pterosaurs and saber-tooth cats
Disputed dominion with seven-tinted bats.

He lived at a time, when the Rockies were young,
And booming volcanoes their smoke curtain flung.
Over Bonneville's waters, a purple and gray,
And forests unbroken, in solitude lay.

His forehead was low, his brain close confined,
His whiskers were bushy and blank was his mind.
His hair, like a poet's, uncut and unkempt,
In majesty over his broad shoulders swept.

In fights with his wife, when the two were alone,
He carried his point with a club or a stone.
Though, sometimes, when arguments drifted rolled,
She scored a black eye, or remodeled his nose.

At home in their cave, 20 feet from the ground,
Where crags of the Eocene period frowned,
They watched the sort play of the brown, dancing shade,
Or listened to music the drifting rain made.

But Fate plays her rottenest tricks on the bold,
And Tom one day stood where an avalanche rolled.
It buried him deeply—club, whiskers and hair,
And 100,000 long years he was there.

His bones may be viewed for a nickel or dime
(A little worse, 'tis the ravage of Time).
Along with the bones of the bison and bat,
The hero, the Jackass, the sage and the rat.

A. G. HALTERMAN.

Someone who has been observing the effects of social and political phenomena in the West says the second generation of Kansans is as timid as jackrabbits. He attributes this to the Kansas dry law and appears to believe that in time prohibition will make of us all a nation of milkpunks. We doubt if our two-story thinkers will take this seriously. It asks us to believe that liquor constituted most of what has been robust and admirable about us, and we think not. What is more likely to impress us is the probable effect of profligate life upon human beings from what we know of its positive effect upon jackrabbits. The timidity of jackrabbits is a commonplace. So far as we know, they have never lived anywhere else. They have never known the hills or the woods—only the wide open places so-called. If the effect of living in the same environment induced man to want pumpwater and therefore gave us prohibition, it would not surprise us a bit. We will take it down to the agora.

MARTINI (the Moron).

Sometimes the scramble among us for inheritances is something less than nice, but what shall we say of the scramble among Federal and State governments the world around for inheritance taxes? When Charles H. Morse died in Chicago he left an estate valued at more than $2,000,000, most of it to a daughter, about $2,000,000 to one son, and $2,000,000 to another. The will contained a proviso that the sons should pay from their shares the inheritance taxes on the entire estate. The taxes were $1,999,999 more than the sons' combined shares.

A hypothetical case was recently given by Prof. Belknap of the University of Louisville, in which under certain circumstances possible, but we hope, not probable, the total taxes could be 24 per cent of the estate. He points out that an estate of more than $10,000,000, owned by an American living and dying in Manila, would be taxed at the top rate of 104 per cent; if the estate were partly in corporate securities of Wisconsin, the rate would go to 144 per cent; if this corporation were incorporated in West Virginia, to 175 per cent; if the certificate were in a safety vault of a bank in Seattle, Wash., to 215 per cent; if the transfer of the stock were made in Denver, Colo., to 235 per cent; if the corporation had also been incorporated in Idaho, to 250 per cent; if Oregon and Illinois held their states to be states of domicile, to 284 per cent—and, as he says, All this without leaving the Stars and Stripes!

Sir: Morris Gest comes from Paris and New York and tells us what beautiful residence districts we have. Conde Nast comes from New York and repeats. An Englishman has been raving about the Mississippi River. The thing that impressed me most when I settled here 20 years ago was the apologetic hang-dog attitude of the average native in the presence of the effervescent New Yorker or Chicagoan. I continue to indulge the hope that eventually we will learn to differentiate between what is called in the contemporaneous vernacular "knock-out" and what the "cognoscenti" denominate "constructive criticism," and then "sell" St. Louis to ourselves. We have a good town. Let's go! J. J. SKRIRD.

Sir: A bull fighter in Mexico has retired after earning a million dollars. To say nothing of having a woman for Governor, this is enough to make the Texas cowboy feel pretty cheap. P. MARK THOMAS.

Last Fall the reds were after us.
This Spring it is the gangsters.
Now it is the gamblers.
What a chase it is!

SPRING PLUS.

There's one joy comes fresh with repeating
That you hope the gods never will stint.
Call it vain if you will,
But still it's a thrill
When you see your own efforts in print.

You may think that the subject is trifling,
That the wording is hackneyed and worn;
But you read over and over,
Then scan it some more,
Till you scarce can believe that it's yours.

If a poem, the rhyme is atrocious.
If prose, it is stilted, you know.
But say what you will,
There still is that thrill
When you see it is printed just on CALYPSO.

NEW JERSEY LAW AND LIBERTY.

From the New Republic.

ROGER BALDWIN of the New York Civil Liberties Union has just sentenced to six months in jail by James A. Delaney of Paterson, N. J., circumstances of unusual interest. The "crime" was committed on May 1924, when he took part in a strike of Paterson, following the normal course of an industrial town and strike, forbade them to meet in a Thersupien they adjourned to the town hall. An attempt was made to start a riot, but the police soon as this started, the police clubbing several men severely. Baldwin sentence, and the fines imposed seven other participants were under a State statute passed in 1924, which provided that anyone who actually never invoked in a single case that day to this. It will be recalled that it was in 1924 that the Federal and Sedition Laws were passed, under wave of terror because of the French Revolution. These laws, while not more severe than our own recent war emergency laws of the same hysteria, but New Jersey cases were tried under them. GOOD NEWS FROM PARIS.

From the New York World.

AT LAST the secret is out. But not going higher. In spite of communications from Paris which for several weeks past have described the mark just below the knees, snuffing the nose, even slightly above the waist, is going to stay right where it is, which is to say, half way between the ankle and the knee. For a very reason. Except for the fact that short skirts are not an aid to chaperones, they are a sure source of scandal. The fashion designers, who are long, but in brief, bow, bandy, bow, sprain tell the story. So the good news need not worry any longer.

A "HARD-BOILED" TOWN.

From the New York Herald-Tribune.

NEW YORK is proverbially cynical. Interested, suspicious and "boiled." It has no time and no room for strangers within its gates. It cannot afford to have a stranger in its own town. When a famous ball player was arrested and tried potatoes that he was a hard-boiled man, more than half a million Yorkers make him the theme of a discussion when traveling on each other's self with nothing save its own "movie" actress returns from town where she has married a nobleman. A million people talk about her, but a few thousand pay $5 a seat to see her perform in her new film. In the "in person" with her own hand.

SUDDENLY TURNS INTO AN ARTIST AND POET

Woman Astounds Scientists:
She Says It's Just Harnessing of Subconscious Self.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 5.—An artistic and psychological phenomenon which astounds the few artists, scientists and friends who have known of it, is the case of Mrs. Katharine Gohere Wellman, divorced wife of Francis L. Wellman, New York lawyer and writer on legal subjects. Without any training Mrs. Wellman has suddenly acquired the ability to paint pictures good enough to require favorable comment from critics and to paint them with such rapidity that she sometimes completes a fair-sized canvas in few hours.

In other forms of self-expression also Mrs. Wellman has, within nine months, begun to exhibit talent. She writes quickly and without effort poems which are declared to be perfect in structure. At times she puts on paper philosophical ideas which penetrate into the further realms of metaphysics, and include explanations of such things as the fourth dimension. She has felt strongly impelled to express herself in sculpture and music also, but the time and physical energy she has devoted to painting have prevented her from exploring her powers in these directions.

Mrs. Wellman attributes her sudden acquisition of artistic and literary talents, to the discovery of the harnessing of her subconscious self.

"For some years I have studied along psychological lines," she said yesterday, "and I had always believed that if we could make a contact with superconsciousness or subconsciousness—whichever you wish to call it—we could do what the mathematical prodigy does when he answers your questions instantly without knowing how he does it."

Mrs. Wellman denied vigorously that she was a spiritualist or that her supernatural elements were in her powers.

"I believe the super or subconscious is in contact with the entire universe, just as a radio phone seems to be. When we can make a contact with it through study and belief we need not have spent years on the study of technique in order to express ourselves through artistic mediums. The superconscious knows everything. These powers which I have begun to show have nothing to do with any force except my own."

G. L. MACFARLANE, ST. L. U.
PUBLICITY DIRECTOR, DIES

George Locke MacFarlane, 50 years old, publicity director of St. Louis University, died last evening in St. John's Hospital of cancer, resulting from an external injury suffered in a fall. The funeral will be held tomorrow, and arrangements are in the hands of members of the university faculty. MacFarlane was the son of the late Judge G. B. MacFarlane, who was a member of the Missouri Supreme Court and a curator of the State University. He began newspaper work in Mexico, Mo., and the Town Hall. An attempt was made to start a riot, but the police soon as this started, the police clubbing several men severely. CANVASS BEGUN FOR FUNDS
FOR CHRISTIAN HOSPITAL

Team solicitors to the number of 18, composed of St. Louis business and professional men, began the work this morning of raising the total $120,000 needed to complete the new building of the Christian Hospital. Carter and Newstead advocates work on which has been discontinued for lack of funds. The first reports of workers will be made at a luncheon at noon Thursday at the City Club. Paul J. Wilelandy, general chairman of the campaign, announced last night at the opening dinner at the City Club that a total of $120,000 had been subscribed in advance of the campaign. This amount included the $50,000 of the first year, and also included about $11,000 in memorials, rooms and beds.

FUNERAL OF SIGMUND STAMPER

The funeral of Sigmund Stamper, 54 years old, a clothing merchant at 1208 South Broadway, who died Saturday at his home after a long illness, was held today from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the New Mount Sinai Cemetery.

Stamper was a native of Austria and came to St. Louis in 1904. He is survived by his widow, Rosa, and eight children, Joseph, Bert, Sidney, Mina, Mrs. Philip Roth, Mrs. Sarah Cook, Mrs. David Davidson and Mrs. Hilda Weiss.

CANVASS BEGUN FOR FUNDS FOR CHRISTIAN HOSPITAL

Team solicitors to the number of 100, composed of St. Louis business and professional men, began the work this morning of raising the fund needed to complete the new building of the Christian Hospital, Carter and Newstead avenues, work on which has been discontinued for lack of funds. The first reports of workers will be made at a luncheon at noon Thursday at the City Club. Paul J. Wiegand, general chairman of the campaign, announced last night at the opening dinner at the City Club that a total of $25,000 had been subscribed in advance of the sum sought. This amount was reported by some of the team captains present at the dinner, and also included about $11,000 in memorial rooms and beds.

FUNERAL OF SIGMUND STAMPFER

The funeral of Sigmund Stampfer, 4250 Cleveland avenue, for 34 years a clothing merchant at 1280 South Broadway, who died Saturday at his home after a long illness, was held today from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. at the Temple, Spring and Flad avenues, New Mount Sinai Cemetery. Julian Miller officiated. Stampfer was 85 years old and was active in his business until within a few years. He was born in Austria and came to St. Louis in 1866. He is survived by his wife, Anna, and eight children, Joseph, Bert, Sidney, Mina, Mrs. Philip Roth, Mrs. Sarah Cook, Mrs. Max Davidson and Mrs. Hilda Band.

TEXAS GIRL TO WED NORTON, TENNIS STAR

They Will Come to St. Louis
After Ceremony, for the Clay Court Tournament

The engagement of Miss Marion Gaines, daughter of Judge and Mrs. John W. Gaines of San Antonio, Tex., and Brian I. C. Norton, International tennis player, was announced Saturday evening at a party at the San Antonio Country Club. The wedding will take place June 15 in St. Mark's Church of that city. Bishop Capers of Texas officiating. Following the ceremony Mr. Norton will bring his bride to St. Louis where he will participate in the National Clay Court Tennis championship tournament to be played here July 13 to 18. They will then go East for three months, to be the guests of Scott Cameron in Southampton, L. I., friends in Newport, and will visit in New York. Later they will go to California to be the guests of the bride's brother in Hollywood, and will return to St. Louis to make their home.

Miss Gaines was educated at Smith College and studied music and art in Washington, D. C. Mr. Norton is the son of Mrs. A. R. Upton of Johannesburg, South Africa, and the late Judge Reginald R. C. Norton of Cape Town, South Africa. He is an alumnus of Hilton College and Cape Town University, founded by Cecil Rhodes, the donor of the Rhodes Scholarship. He represented his country in running, boxing and tennis at the Olympic Games in Antwerp in 1920, and in 1921, 1922 and 1923 was champion of all Europe in grass court, indoor and clay court tennis.

Prior to the wedding Mr. Norton will complete in the Texas State championship tennis tournament at the San Antonio Country Club. "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be presented at the Odeon Friday evening, May 8, by pupils of Mrs. Carl P. Johnson's dancing classes. Divertissements and a Russian ballet also will be given.

There will be a second service for the social workers of St. Louis and the county tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in Christ Church Cathedral. A short program of organ music will be followed by an address and later tea will be served informally in the Schuyler Memorial House.

$100,000 OF FUND FOR 'THE MIRACLE' IN SIGHT

Local Committee Telegraphs
Morris Gest to Return Here Monday for Conference.

Announcement that $100,000 of the $200,000 guarantee fund required for staging "The Miracle" in St. Louis is already in sight was made today by Charles F. Hatfield following a meeting yesterday of the Organization Committee, of which he is chairman. Plans for raising the remainder of the amount were discussed and a telegram was sent to Morris Gest, New York producer of the spectacle, asking him to return to St. Louis on Monday, May 18, for another meeting with the invitation Committee, comprising 20 or more prominent citizens and business men. A big reception and banquet is planned as a further step in arousing the interest of the public. On his recent visit here to inspect the Coliseum, Gest said he would return at any time the committee desired his presence. One of the purposes of the Organization Committee's meeting yesterday was to discuss steps for effecting a larger permanent organization, but it was decided to defer the organization work until another meeting at 2 p. m. tomorrow. In the meantime efforts will be made to obtain as many persons as possible who have seen "The Miracle" either in New York or Cleveland to serve on the permanent body. These persons have been asked to send in their names at once.

Gest has Cabled An Offer to Lady Diana Manners to Play Here. NEW YORK, May 5.—When Morris Gest returned from his conference with the representative of the Playgoers' Guild and other civic bodies in St. Louis yesterday, he went straight to the doctor's office, where he was bandaged and padded up, suffering intensely from a cold contracted on the journey home. His physical sufferings did not, however, abate in the slightest degree his enthusiastic regard for St. Louis, its people and its Coliseum. He says he thinks the Coliseum the finest structure he has yet seen for the production of "The Miracle" not only because of its size, but in the arrangement of the seats so that the occupant of the cheapest seat can get as fine a view of the spectacle as those sufficiently favored of fortune to have

FASHION SHOW BY STUDENTS

Girls of Kirkwood High Class to Wear Dresses of Own Make. A fashion show and parade will be given at Kirkwood High School tomorrow afternoon, by the girls of the Home Economics class, directed by Miss Ella Miller, instructor. Dresses designed and made by the girls themselves will be worn. The parade of dresses, worn by their makers, will come first. Part two will be a showing of correct and incorrect dress for different occasions. Part three will be a historical showing of fashions from 1770 to 1925, with oral explanations by the instructor.

OFFICER OF THE GIDEON'S DIES

The funeral of J. C. Brown, 68 years old, a salesman for a physician's supply house, who died of pneumonia yesterday at his home, 3253 Jackson avenue, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from the Centenary Methodist Church, where he was Sunday School superintendent, to Valhalla Cemetery. Brown is survived by a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, and one son, Albert G. Brown of St. Louis. He was state treasurer of the Gideons and chaplain of the Egyptian Hustlers.

the higher-priced places. "It was my first trip to St. Louis since 1911," Mr. Gest said to a reporter for the Post-Dispatch today, speaking from the depths of a padded wheel chair, "and I was amazed at the development of the city. When I got up the morning after my arrival and looked from the window of my room in the Chase Hotel, the view was finer than any I have ever seen in Paris, where beauty of scene in city building has been a fetish for generations. I have never seen anything to compare with the beauty of Forest Park as I saw it in the early morning sun.

"Nor have I ever seen a city where the people have shown such artistic taste and good sense in the building of their homes. I do not think any city in the country can make as fine a showing in its residence sections as St. Louis does. "So confident am I that we will open up with 'The Miracle' there on Dec. 24 that I have already cabled to Lady Diana Manners asking her consent to appear in the St. Louis season. When I made my contract for her return St. Louis was not on the list, but I haven't the slightest fear but that she will consent. I am also seeking Miss Pinchot, who made such a sensation in the part of the nun. I do not anticipate any trouble there, either."

CHURCH CONGRESS TO HEAR TALKS ON HERESY

Addresses Tonight Will Open Sessions of Episcopal Organization.

James G. McDonald of New York, chairman of the Foreign Policy Association, will speak tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock before the Church Congress of the Episcopal Church in Sheldon Memorial Auditorium, 3646 Washington boulevard, on "The United States in World Relations." The association includes a group of Americans in many cities, studying and working to make an informed liberalism, a more potent force in American foreign policy. Bi-weekly luncheons have been given by the association in New York for the past five years, at which De Valera, Sir Horace Plunkett, George W. Wickersham, Walter Lippmann, Sir George Paish, Dr. Yarnell Kin, Lincoln Steffens, Torokichi Iwanoa and others of many races and beliefs have met and discussed their points of view.

The Church Congress opens tonight at 8 o'clock in Sheldon Memorial Auditorium, when there will be addresses on "Heresy: What Is It and What Shall We Do With It?" by Frederic Cook Morehouse of Milwaukee, editor of the Living Church, and Dr. Luke M. White of Montclair, N. Y. Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock there will be a service in St. Peter's Church, Spring and Lindell, at which the preacher will be Bishop T. C. Darst of North Carolina. The congress meets tonight, Wednesday and Thursday nights, Thursday and Friday mornings and Friday afternoon in Sheldon Memorial. All meetings are open to the public. Bishop C. L. Slattery of Boston is general chairman and will preside.

FUNERAL SERVICES TOMORROW FOR THE REV. KARL KISSLING

Funeral services for the Rev. Karl Kissling, 69 years old, editor for 20 years of Evangelical Church Sunday-School publications, who died Sunday of pneumonia at his home, 3244 Moffitt avenue, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from St. Peter's Evangelical Church, Warne and St. Louis avenues, to St. Peter's Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Kissling is survived by his widow, Mrs. Karoline Kissling; one daughter, Miss Helen Kissling, and two sons, Theodore and the Rev. Karl Kissling Jr., pastor of a church at Old Monroe, Mo.

Funeral for Col. D. E. Dunham. Funeral services for Col. David E. Dunham, Salvation Army leader of St. Louis and the Midland Division, who died in Detroit Friday, were conducted at the St. Louis No. 5 Citadel, 3620 Finney avenue, at 10 a. m. today. Col. Alex. Damon of Chicago officiating. Col. Dunham had held the St. Louis post for four years, one of the outstanding features of his command being the establishment of the Fresh Air Camp at Ferguson. Burial was in Valhalla Cemetery.

From the New Republic.
ROGER BALDWIN of the American Civil Liberties Union has just been sentenced to six months in jail by Judge James A. Delaney of Paterson, N. J., on circumstances of unusual interest. Baldwin's "crime" was committed on Oct. 1924, when he took part in a meeting striking silk workers. The Chief of Police of Paterson, following the normal procedure in an industrial town and trying to do everything in his power to hinder strikes, forbade them to meet in a hall. Thereupon they adjourned to the steps of the Town Hall. An attempt was made to read aloud the Bill of Rights, and soon as this started, the police broke in an industrial town and trying to do everything in his power to hinder strikes, forbade them to meet in a hall. Thereupon they adjourned to the steps of the Town Hall. An attempt was made to read aloud the Bill of Rights, and soon as this started, the police broke in the meeting, using the utmost violence, clubbing several men severely. Baldwin, sentenced, and the fines imposed on seven other participants were inflicted under a State statute passed in 1798, actually never invoked in a single case. That day to this it will be remembered that it was in 1798 that the Federal and Sedition Laws were passed, during a wave of terror because of the French Revolution. These laws, while not much more than our own recent war crop, met a storm of disapproval that hardly cases were tried under them. They repealed in a few years, having in meantime caused the destruction of political party which sponsored them. New Jersey law was a minor outcrop of the same hysteria; but New Jersey got around to the repeal of her ordinance.

GOOD NEWS FROM PARIS.

From the New York World.
AT LAST the secret is out. Skirts are not going higher. In spite of all communications from Paris which for several weeks past have described a firm mark just below the knees, exactly at the knees, even slightly above the knees, mark is going to stay right where it is. And why? For a very good reason. Except for the fortunate short skirts are not an aid to chic, they are rather a sure source of ridicule. It seems hardly delectable to discuss length, but in brief, bow, hands, knock, spavin tell the story. So the good news need not worry any longer.

A "HARD-BOILED" TOWN.

From the New York Herald-Tribune.
NEW YORK is proverbially cynical. Interested, suspicious and "hard-boiled." It has no time and no use for strangers within its gates. It concerns itself with nothing save its own affairs. When a "movie" actress returns from Paris where she has married a nobleman, to a million people talk about her, and a few thousand pay $5 a seat to see a performance of her new film, in which she appears "in person" with her titled band.

Ice-Mint. PRESTO!Corns With and Lift Out With Fingers. No Pain.Corns sufferer's hand: get right up close and listen, here, good news for you.The real genuine "Cord Killer" is here at last. No humbug. Ice-mint, the new discovery made from a Japanese product, is said to gently and quickly end all foot misery. Think of it: only a touch of two of that cooling, soothing ice-mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, also lumpy, calloused corns, right up and lift off so easy, it's wonderful.Every foot sufferer can appreciate a remedy like this especially women who wear high-heeled shoes and men who are obliged to stand on their feet all day.Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a few cents worth of ice-mint and learn for yourself what real foot comfort really is. There is nothing like it.

Warns Middle-Aged Women to Check
High Blood PressureThousands of women at the changing time of life are in danger of high blood pressure. It is caused by poisonous waste matter accumulating in the system or the weakening of one or more organs. This forces the heart to do more work and raises blood pressure.The symptoms are dizziness, shortness of breath, head pains, flushed face, nervousness or sleeplessness.
High blood pressure must be treated and stopped, for everyone knows it brings on Bright's disease, apoplexy and often sudden death. It is too dangerous and quick acting to go without heeding its symptoms.Norma is a doctor's prescription for high blood pressure that has been used with great success.Being a purely vegetable medicine, it contains no habit-forming drugs, is harmless, and works in such a way that it drives out waste matter, lessens the duty of the over-taxed heart and reduces blood pressure, safely and easily. Other bottle brings great relief. Get a bottle of Norma today and you will be suffering high blood pressure. Write

COFFEEE. ST. LOUIS MAYOR
URGES MORE POLICEReport to Council Also Says Pay of Officers and Firemen Is Inadequate.A report made by Mayor M. M.
Stephens of East St. Louis on the business of the first two years of the present administration, which took office in the spring of 1923, was read into the minutes of the meeting of the City Council yesterday. The report commended each department of the city and the Commissioner in charge.Commissioner M. J. Whalen opposed filing the report because of a recommendation it made to resurface brick streets with asphalt, a type of paving which, Whalen said, was too high-priced, and secondly, because of the Lansdowne sewer project, which Whalen termed unsatisfactory.The improvement of State street was mentioned as an outstanding achievement of the Streets Department.Mayor Stephens in his report holds that a police force of 60 men, the average number employed in 1924, is inadequate for proper protection of the city and that the members of the police and fire departments are receiving inadequate salaries.The report recommended automatic stop signals at congested crossings and a straight approach to the Municipal Bridge on Tenth street. It also recommended the building of an auditorium with a seating capacity for 2000 persons.WOUNDED RUM RUNNER TO FACE CHARGES IN INDIANABoyd Washburn, wounded rum-runner, now a prisoner in the St.
Louis City Hospital, will be taken to Terre Haute, Ind., when he is considered able to travel, to answer to a kidnapping charge. He and others are charged with having carried away and beaten a man named Hagerman, in a feud which grew out of liquor robberies. Washburn was one of the men engaged in the St. Louis and Indiana traffic by motor truck, in redistilled "backrub" alcohol, from which a connection was made which was sold under the labels of standard brands of whiskey.Washburn was shot twice in the abdomen six weeks ago, as the supposed result of this feud. He was carried away from a hospital in Paris, Ill., last Wednesday night, and was found Thursday night at his mother's home at 606 S. 10th street, St. Louis. Gov. Baker yesterday granted a requisition for his extradition to Indiana.

him that Pelley never discussed with him the purchase of his ground.

Never Developed Property.

When Pelley purchased the ground work on Project No. 12 was in full swing and headed in the direction of his tract. He immediately made a subdivision of the property which caused its assessed valuation to be doubled. However, the tract was never developed as a subdivision.The purchase of the property was made by President Baker and sanctioned by the Levee Board by a 3-2-2 vote. Albert Meints and William Roche voting against it.
Harry Kramer and Robert Schmidt, the only member of the former Levee Board on the present board, supported Baker.
Meints and Roche generally were in the minority, consistently voting against the expenditure of money on Project 12.In showing the $4000 claim of the Hall Construction Co. the Levee Board voted against the recommendation of its chief engineer, who advised that the claim be disallowed. The claim was based on difficulties encountered in building of the bridge supports because of a flowage of spring water.

Bridge Contract.

The bridge contract was let to the Hall Construction Co. at a
though the engineer's estimate was $58,000, Judge Weber stated.He was advised the present Levee Board, which has voiced opposition to completion of Project 12, to de-clue the $4000 claim allowed the construction company from the payment on the original contract.
This is possible because work on the bridge has been completed since the present board took office.The action of Judge Weber is the first of this nature ever to be taken against operations of the Levee Board, which was organized in 1905 to prevent a recurrence of the disastrous flood of 1903. Extraordinary efforts of different Levee Boards in the purchase of land and letting of contracts has been repeatedly related in the Post-Dispatch but grand jury action never has been seriously considered before.Largely through the efforts of Mayor Stephens of East St. Louis a bitter opponent of Project 12, work on the canal has been halted since 1923 by a court injunction.
Circuit Judge Crow has undertaken an application for a permanent injunction against the Levee Board.

GENERAL ELECTRIC DENIES CHARGE OF UNTERMYER

Owen D. Young, Chairman of Board, Says Banking Group Does Not Control Company.

NO FAVORS ASKED OF GOVERNMENT

Requests Untermeyer Not to Involve Company in "Private Quarrels or Political Attacks."

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 5.—Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Co., has made public a letter he has sent to Samuel Untermeyer in which he emphatically denies that the General Electric Co. is controlled by J. P. Morgan & Co. or any other banking group or interest.

The charge was made by Untermeyer in letters dated April 30 to Young and Basil D. Manly, director of the People's Legislative Service, in which he declared the Department of Justice had failed to prosecute cases against the General Electric Co.

The letter of Young, given out last night, follows in part: "Your letter of April 30 reached me today, first through the newspapers and then direct. It seems to make charges against the Federal courts, the Department of Justice, J. P. Morgan & Co., and the General Electric Co. In my reply I shall endeavor to mind my own business by dealing only with those matters which affect the General Electric Co.

"First, the General Electric Co. is not controlled by J. P. Morgan & Co. or any other banking group or interest. Its executive officers are responsible and solely responsible for the administration of the affairs of the company under the direction of its board of directors. In fact, the only power to control the General Electric Co. lies in the hands of its 37,000 stockholders, no one of whom owns more than 1 per cent of its capital stock, except the General Electric Employees' Securities Corporation.

"Second, since I have been chairman of the board—and I speak of that period only because I know no person has been authorized in behalf of the General Electric Co. to ask—and I believe no one has asked—any member of the Federal Government to act or refrain from acting in any matter of special interest to the General Electric Co.

"Finally, may I ask in the name of 100,000 men and women who are interested in the General Electric Co. as stockholders and workers that you carry on any controversies you may have with J. P. Morgan & Co. or the Department of Justice without involving us, either in your private quarrels or your political attacks."

JUDGE ENGLISH OPENS MAY
TERM OF COURT IN E. ST. LOUIS

Criminal Cases to Come Before Federal Court the Last Three Weeks in Month.

The May term of the Federal Court in East St. Louis opened yesterday, with Federal Judge George W. English, whose official conduct was investigated recently by a congressional committee, presiding. The findings of the committee will be reported next December to the House, which will determine whether impeachment proceedings should be brought against Judge English before the Senate.

Civil cases will be taken up this week, and, beginning next Monday, criminal cases will be tried for three weeks. Judge English did not give any special instructions to the grand jury, which convened yesterday afternoon.

MORE TESTIMONY IN PHONE RATE INQUIRY

Public Service Commission Accountant Testifies as to Inspection of Books.

The State Public Service Commission, meeting at City Hall, today resumed its hearing of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s application for permission to increase its rates on local business telephones $900,000 annually. H. W. Ross, the commission's accountant, was the first witness.

The Bell Co. seeks the increase on the basis of an added valuation of $12,500,000, and purchase of the Kinloch Telephone Co., since the commission last fixed the rate in September, 1921. It seeks to have the commission award the increase from an examination of the company's books, the commission's own records and a consideration of a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision relating to the manner of fixing utility values.

The city opposes this method of arriving at the matter of whether the increase is justified or in what amount and insists that an inventory and appraisal of the properties be made.

Inspected Company Books. Ross testified as to his inspection of the Bell Co.'s books. A. E. Scott, the company statistician, had testified regarding them yesterday. Breckinridge Jones, chairman of the board of directors of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., and W. F. Sloan, a Bell engineer, also testified yesterday.

Jones testified that new financing of a public utility usually requires a stock that pays 5 per cent return and gave as a reason the fact that utilities had to be prepared for such upheavals as strikes, mobs and even political upheavals. He testified that private corporations might adjust prices immediately as conditions change, but utilities had to go through long processes before State commissions and municipal agencies to obtain adjustments.

Value of Kinloch Property. Ross testified that the reproduction value of the Kinloch Co. April 13, 1922, based upon a survey he had made in May of 1920, was $8,200,000, and that today it probably was between $7,000,000 and $7,500,000. He said the physical properties were valued at $5,775,000, the working capital amounted to $154,000 and placed the going value at $2,821,000.

AUTOS KNOCK DOWN TWO TRAFFIC POSTS AT HIGHLANDS

Two Men and Woman Suffer Serious Injuries in Collisions at Park Entrance.

Two lighted traffic posts in front of the entrance of Forest Park Highlands were knocked over last night in two separate collisions, in one of which three persons were seriously injured.

Mrs. Ethel Hummel, 19 years old, 6924 Horton place, suffered lacerations of the neck and face, when an automobile driven by Louis Pebernart, of 941 Catalpa avenue, struck the east post when Pebernart swerved the car to avoid a collision with a street car at 8:40 p. m. Pebernart was slightly injured. Ralph Hummel, the injured woman's husband, and Mrs. Marie Pebernart were not hurt.

Archie McDonald, 32 years old, of 1215 Warner avenue, a saloon proprietor, was taken to Barnes Hospital in critical condition after his automobile, which he was driving west on Oakland avenue at 12:30 a. m., struck the west post, demolishing the car. He suffered a fracture of left leg and probable skull fracture.

McDonald's companion, Peter Butler, 21 years old, of 2161 Nebraska avenue, is in serious condition at Barnes Hospital with a fractured jaw and lacerations of the head and face.

U. S. ORDERS PUBLICITY FOR THOSE GUILTY OF SMUGGLING

Customs Collectors Instructed to Give Press Details After Cases Have Been Investigated.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, May 5.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews issued instructions today to customs collectors that hereafter smuggling cases shall be given publicity after the investigation by the Government has been completed.

Andrews believes that if persons bringing jewelry and other articles into the United States know the details of their smuggling efforts will be given publicity if they fail to make a declaration, it will act as a deterrent.

Two years ago the Treasury Department issued orders for customs employees not to disclose the details of smuggling cases. These orders were amended today and the instructions, now ready, in part are:

"The right of the press to be advised of administrative action concerning customs activities is fully recognized. It is, however, necessary in many cases to avoid publicity to protect both the Government's interests and those of persons involved."

"In applying the paragraphs to offenses against the customs laws, the collector may give the press information of the details in any case after he has completed his investigation and the case has closed with a finding against the offender." Objections have been raised from time to time to the Government's secrecy regarding smuggling cases.

The dish that is always ready

There is no servant problem in the home where Shredded Wheat is known. It is ready-cooked, ready-to-eat—and two Biscuits with milk or cream make a perfect meal. Contains all the body-building elements in the whole wheat including the bran which is so useful in promoting healthful bowel movement. The crisp, flavory shreds of baked wheat are delicious with milk or cream, or with fruits of any kind.

DIVERS TO SEEK SUBMERGED CITY

Natives Say They Have Seen
15-Foot Walls Off North African Coast.

By COUNT BYRON DE PROROK.
Copyright, 1922, by New York Times Co.
CARTHAGE, May 8.—The fascination and mystery of the unknown ancient city, engulfed centuries ago by the Mediterranean, and whose ruins have been reported to have been found by native sponge divers in the narrow channel between Djerdah Island and the mainland, soon may be solved.

The services of a deep sea diving company have been obtained to supply two ships with crews of 40 men, including 10 professional divers, to make the first investigation of this submerged site. Count de Prorok will go there on May 15 to begin operations with the divers, in co-operation with the local French authorities, and work will go on for 10 days or more, depending on what is found.

The work has all the thrill of deep sea fishing raised to the nth power, for there is no knowing what will be caught in the swirling current, 70 feet deep, which passes over the sunken city. There may be nothing at all, for the native divers may have been mistaken and led the Franco-American expedition on a costly wild goose chase. On the other hand, houses with walls 15 feet high, intact stairways, streets and columns which they swear they have seen—and perhaps richer treasures may be found.

Prosperous Cities Disappeared.
The search is a gamble—it will settle the truth of reports once and for all.

According to the studies of Prof. Stephen G. Sell, a leading authority on classic North Africa, the Roman city of Tepas once flourished on this coast and disappeared like so many others without leaving a trace.

It may be that this town suffered at the hand of Neptune a catastrophe as horrible as that which wiped out Pompeii, for great changes have taken place in the Mediterranean coast line in the last 20 centuries.

The investigation is not without danger, for a couple of native divers have been drowned seeking sponges in the powerful eddies.

Punic Exhibits for University.
Maj. F. C. Shorey, who has been representing McGill University here for the last two years, has been called by business affairs back to his home in Montreal.

Maj. Shorey is taking with him several cases containing representative types of Punic and Roman antiquities found in Carthage and Utica. These he will present to McGill.

The collection, which consists of duplicates of objects in the museums here, includes complete sets of Punic, Roman and early Christian oil lamps and wells, and samples of other ceramic objects, such as earthenware, urns, ancient coins and "squeezees" or reproductions of the most interesting of the Punic inscriptions found on steles of the Sanctuary of Tanit.

Maj. Shorey expressed himself well pleased with the results of the season's work, saying he thought they showed the value of trying to unearth the ancient Punic civilization was no longer open to argument.

With Maj. Shorey departed two student assistants on the expedition staff, C. C. Wells of the University of Virginia, who did most of the wrapping of steles found at the Temple of Tanit, and Woodbridge Morris of Yale, who acted as inspector of the Utica excavations and assisted the prehistoric explorations during the recent southern expedition.

When Warrants Are Required.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 8.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals held yesterday that law officers deriving power from the State may search homes or automobiles for liquor evidence without a warrant but that Federal agents must obtain a search warrant. The latter, it was held, are subject to the fourth amendment to the Constitution. The decision was returned in the case of William Schroeder, a former policeman, arrested by police for a liquor violation. The court upheld Schroeder's conviction.

Kilmer Horse Was Insured For $150,000

Owner Turned Down $100,000 Offer for Animal When a Two-Year-Old.

DEFEAT WAS AN UPSET

Three-Year-Olds After Fine Workout, Ran Second to Prince of Bourbon.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 5.—Insurance company men and private detectives today continued their investigation into the death, late Saturday night, at the Pimlico track of Sunny Man, the promising three-year-old of the Willis Sharpe Kilmer stable.

Sunny Man was insured for $150,000, according to a statement by an insurance company official. J. P. "Sammy" Smith, the trainer, was reluctant to divulge the lines along which the investigation is being conducted. It is understood, however, that the theory that arose was given to the horse is based on clues which lead back to the Havre de Grace track, where he ran before he was brought to Baltimore on Tuesday.

Meanwhile extra precautions are being taken at the tracks. Additional guards and stable men have been put on guard to prevent access to the horses by strangers.

It is said that Kilmer refused an offer of $200,000 for Sunny Man and Samsard, as two-year-olds.

Possibly an Accident.

Many of the horsemen at Pimlico do not take much stock in the poison theory, but believe the horse had been given an overdose of some medicine administered to soothe his nerves, but which had not been sufficiently diluted.

According to another report, Sunny Man died crazed by butting his head against the walls of his stall. His mouth was burned with a deadly poison, the gums turning the shortly before he died.

Three veterinarians who saw the horse before his death, according to Smith, said that death was caused from a "pill" of chloral and arsenic administered prior to the race at Havre de Grace, last Monday, in which Sunny Man was beaten by Prince of Bourbon, after making far below the form displayed in trials.

Beaten at Havre.

Smith said at the track this afternoon: "I worked Sunny Man before

Houston Releases Berly.

HOUSTON, Tex., May 5.—The Houston club sent John Berly, pitcher, to Spartanburg of the South Atlantic League, and third baseman, Lynton Rogers, to Springfield of the Three-I League. Both players go to the Class B clubs under an optional agreement.

his race at Havre de Grace. He went to the quarter in 22 2-5 seconds and indicated he would run the six furlongs in close to 1:11. In the race he was back in the pack after two furlongs, although it was run by the winner in 23 2-5 seconds, a full second slower than Sunny Man worked.

Sunny Man finished second, in a race run in 1:12 2-5, but his performance caused me to upbraid the jockey, Jimmy Wallace, for what I thought was a poor race.

"The next day we loaded him on a van and one of the handlers noticed he would not munch his hay. When he was unloaded I took his temperature and found it was above 102, or more than 2 degrees above normal.

"I called Dr. H. J. McCarthy and Dr. Joseph P. Grogan, veterinarians. They found the horse's mouth burned with acid, and evidence of severe systemic disorder. The horse kept getting worse and I summoned Dr. R. C. McCully from New York.

"Dr. McCully, special veterinarian for Mr. Kilmer's horses, expressed the opinion that the horse was poisoned with chloral and arsenic, probably administered by a capsule prior to the Havre de Grace race."

Man O'War Filly Makes Great Showing in Winning Pimlico Oaks.

More Big Munney.

SO Big Munn is going to wrestle Strangler Lewis and it is to be for a championship! At last Lewis says he still has the belt and therefore he is still champion.

If a title belt is all that is necessary to make a champion, then we refer the Munn-Lewis promoters to the case of Stanislaus Zyzsko, who surprised and pained Big Munn at Philadelphia. Stanislaus received a real, honest-to-goodness belt from Tex Rickard, when he won the title in New York some years back. He still has it. If belts make champions, Stanislaus is therefore twice champion, since he beat Munn, whose claim to the title had been nationally recognized at the time Zibby tossed him around like a sack of peanuts.

Until Munn was defeated, nobody's voice was being lifted in his title claim, except Lewis'.

Guess the Answer.

AS to the result of the Decoration day bout at Michigan City, where Floyd Fitzsimmons' really fine outdoor "bow" will be utilized for the Munn-Lewis affair—the outcome is tougher to pick than the Kentucky Derby.

If mere wrestling is to prevail, in our opinion Munn will go down as fast as he gets up. As a wrestler, he is worse than Willard was as a fighter—and that's saying a lot.

But it has been hinted that wrestlers have not yet been granted the right of self-determination in the matter of "shootings." So keep the family plate in the strong box and bet it on a horse or a dog or something else that can't talk.

Coming Clean.

POLICE in Louisville announce that they can sense Derby day's approach from the graduated increase in the number of pickpocket cases. Between the pickpockets and the pari-mutuel machines our returning Derby delegation on May 17 ought to come cleaned.

Picking on Him.

THEY'RE still picking on Branch Rickey. Even over in Ipava, Ill., a correspondent, who refers to St. Louis as the burlesque city of major league baseball, says that if the St. Louis club is satisfied with the managed of the Cardinals, it ought to be satisfied with the results he gets.

Flings at Rickey are common, but the old boy goes along picking out 18-karat baseball players just as if he knew how.

As a matter of fact, Rickey probably commits no more mistakes than any other manager. Ty Cobb, for example, is pulling lots of them. What would St. Louis fans have said had Rickey, like Cobb, pulled out Dause and put in a Wells, with the score tied in the ninth inning and Dause going strong?

Fans here would have had his head.

Rickey has not had big league pitching for years and that's what ails the club. Rickey did more with less talent, when first he took hold, than almost any manager in the organization.

Something in a Name.

THE MUNICIPAL LEAGUE boasts a baseball club styled the "Blank Banner Malt" team. Of course, the pitcher gets a lot of hon on the ball; but the public gets a real kick out of the name.

In the matter of nomenclature the Municipal Association reads like the classified business index the back of the phone book. That is due to the charitable nature of our St. Louis business enterprises.

Many of our industries are willing to give a $50 set of uniforms any time for the $500 or more worth of free publicity and advertising resulting.

Our commercial philanthropists, as set forth in the names of Munn teams, are identified with all lines from cake, candy and confectionery companies to undertaking and embalming concerns and newly laid-out cemeteries.

The commercial backers of business teams have overlooked one big chance, however—they have thus far failed to take advantage of the BACK of the players' uniform for advertising.

Maid at Arms to Go in Preakness

Man O'War Filly Makes Great Showing in Winning Pimlico Oaks.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 5.—A new contender for the $50,000 Preakness appeared last night when Sarguel D. Riddle announced that as a result of the brilliant performance of Maid-at-Arms in the Pimlico Oaks, he would send the miss to the post in Friday's classic. Maid-at-Arms, a Man o' War filly, made her own pace in the Oaks, and covered the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46, the fastest time ever made in the stakes.

The performance of the Riddle filly has brought her considerable favor. The Preakness last year was won by a filly, Bud Fisher's Nellie Morse.

Glen Riddle's American flag, also by Man of War, is training nicely and yesterday had an easy mile in 1:44, while Nicholas of the

LEONARD TO BOX IN EXHIBITION MAY 17

NEW YORK, May 5.—Benny Leonard has signified his intention of re-entering the ring May 17 but only for an exhibition. The retired lightweight champion has consented to box at benefit of the Jewish Theatrical Guild of America in New York on that date.

Fair Stable stepped the same distance in 1:41 4-5.

J. E. Griffith's Singlefoot, being pointed for both Preakness and Derby, went a mile and a quarter in 2:08 2-5. Candy Kid, which is to bear H. P. Whitney's colors, did a speedy three-quarters mile in 1:14 2-5.

Several other prospective starters were put through their paces, with the same routine on the schedule today.

The Bowling Green purse, a six-furlong sprint, will bring out several well-thought-of Preakness candidates this afternoon. Prominent among these are Courageous, Storm King, Fast Mail, Campfire Tales and Finland. Storm King has worked exceedingly well and looks especially formidable.

Swope arrived at Pimlico last night and is scheduled to face the barrier today.

All St. Louis Public High Track Teams to Compete Saturday.

Twenty-seven high schools of Missouri and Illinois have entered the fifth annual Mississippi Valley interscholastic field and track meet which will take place under the auspices of Washington University at Francis Field, Saturday.

Schools entered in the meet will be divided, as has been the custom heretofore, into two divisions, one for schools having an enrollment of less than 350 students and a senior division for schools of more than that attendance.

All St. Louis public high schools, in addition to McBride and St. Louis University High, have entered. Webster Groves is the only county school not represented. Former meets in the senior division have been won by Soldan and Cleveland, while University City and Kirkwood are the local schools which captured first honors in the

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—W. Thompson and A. Thompson, Omaha, with games of 352, 346 and 375 for a total of 1073, went into second place in the doubles of the Women's National Bowling Association tournament here yesterday. The 521 W. Thompson rolled in this event, 312 in her singles and her 506 as a member of the Omaha Recreation Parlor quintet, gave her a total of 1442 for third place in the all-events.

There were no changes among the leaders, all of whom are from Chicago.

Abeln's Bird Wins.

L. Abeln's Blue Check Hen, registering number AU-24-D-2922, was the first bird home in the first old bird race of the year held by the Carondelet Racing Pigeon Club which was flown from Piedmont, Mo., Saturday. Abeln's winner flew the 105 miles in 2 hours and 34 minutes at an average speed of 115.9 miles a minute. Eight lefts with a total of 23 birds competed.

Duckpin League Ends.

The 191 Delta Kappa, squad bowled high score last night in the duckpin tournament at the Rogers alley, totaling 1738. D. Other Eligibles Badly Beaten in Lexington Event

QUATRIN SHOWS SPEED

Louisiana Derby Winner Will Be Asked for Real Test, Soon.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Speed tests over short distances was the program yesterday for Kentucky Derby eligibles, and the same schedule was planned for today. All birds here were of the opinion that while there has been an absence of distance work by the candidates, it does not mean that the colts are not ready for the taxing mile-and-a-quarter distance.

Infrequency of lengthy workouts is due to two reasons. The track has been slow for 10 days and trainers are following a program of thoroughly seasoning their charges with short breezes to retain speed. Word has been given out by numerous trainers that the horses could creditably face the derby barriers within an hour's notice now.

At the local tracks, Lee O. Cotner and Captain Hal delighted their followers yesterday by short and fast trials. Air Castle, Pryor, Elector, Louis Rubenstein and Russell Cave also worked out, some being asked for maximum speed for the brief distance of only three furlongs.

King Nadi in Fine Form.
At Lexington, King Nadi ran an exceptional mile in 1:40, leaving other derby candidates in the rear, including the favorite, Supreme, which finished a poor third. 15 lengths back of Son of John, who engaged King Nadi in a driving finish only to be beaten by a head.

While King Nadi displayed remarkable gameness as Son of John nudged him head and head he has shown that he is partial to soft footing, and a fast track for Derby time will be so much to his liking. If the track is soft, other favorites will face a dangerous challenger in King Nadi.

Quatrain Training Perfectly.
Frederick Johnson, owner and trainer of Quatrain, Kentucky Derby favorite, was on hand at Churchill Downs to give his charge a stiff breeze in contemplation of a more pretentious move tomorrow. Quatrain had his "foot" in the short distance he was asked to go. The boy on the son of Omar Khayyam "stepped on the gas" for three eighths of a mile and the colt went the first eighth in 1:12, quarter in 2:25.3 and the three-eighths in 3:37. This was one of the speediest moves of the day, although the track was a bit heavy next to the rail due to a hard rainstorm yesterday afternoon.

Quatrain seems to be training perfectly and does not show the least signs of lameness from the foot he hurt by stepping on a cinder a fortnight ago.

However, Johnson is taking no chances with him and had his assistant trainer adjust the foot protectors on the colt in going on and off the track, where he is compelled to walk for quite a stretch over a cinder road.

Lee O. Cotner took more kindly to his daily exercise today than on Saturday. He was sent alone and did not wear blinkers for an "opening up" of one-half a mile. He was caught by the clockers a quarter in 24.1 and half in 49.3.5. Hard sell.

It was explained by Trainer Jones today that the cause for the colts suking Saturday was that he objected to being restrained back of Bourbon Boy after going in the lead with the older racer. He says that Lee O. Cotner is a colt that likes to make his own pace and is hard to "place" in a race.

Rally in Eighth Enables Tigers To Beat Pikers

Pitcher Levy Walks Bishop; a Sacrifice and Two Hits Do the Rest.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 5. — A base on balls, a sacrifice, a single and a three-base hit in the eighth gave Missouri a victory over Washington here yesterday afternoon, 5-4.

The Tigers were trailing, 4 to 3, when Charley Levy walked Bishop, the diminutive Missouri lead-off man. Kearney advanced Bishop, with a sacrifice, after Levy had victoriously protested to the umpire about the base on balls, and Coach Davis of Washington had intervened to halt the argument. Swoford bunted, and was safe, Bishop going to third, setting the stage for McQueen's triple, which scored the tying and winning runs.

Two strikeouts and a grounder retired the visitors in their final inning.

Pikers Start Well.
Starting with a bang, the Pikers counted twice in the first, with a triple by Chatham and a home run by Gragg furnishing the ammunition. A single, stolen base and error by Bishop sent Conrad around in the second for the third Washington run, and the fourth came in the fourth inning, when Thrasher walked, got second on a wild throw to first by Waters and made the rest of his way on infield outs.

McBride Defeats Billiken Juniors

Team Hitting Brings 10-2 Victory; Wrestling Allows Only 3 Safeties.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 5. — The McBride High defeated St. Louis University High yesterday in a Preparatory League game, 10 to 2. Wrestling, on the hill for the winners, allowed the Junior Billiken only 3 hits. The losing pitchers O'Rourke and McTague, were hit freely.

The McBride batters made a total of 12 hits, each member of the team getting at least one. Boyle hit a home run. The box score:

ST. LOUIS STARS AGAIN BEAT BIRMINGHAM, 10-4

The St. Louis Stars defeated the Birmingham Black Barons, 10 to 4, in the third game of the series at the Stars' park yesterday. Thompson made a brilliant catch in the field for the Barons, while Reddus, Bell and Wells made the feature plays for the home club.

Broyles, the new southpaw purchased by the Stars, held the visitors safely, while Robinson and Streeter allowed 18 hits. The Stars have the better of the series by winning two straight games. The fourth will be played this afternoon.

NURMI'S MANAGER GIVES BACK $16 OF $1200 EXPENSE MONEY

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Nurmi, Finland's wonder runner, was on his way to New York after a short stay on the Pacific Coast where he appeared with the Ritola, a counterpoint, and prominent athletes and he submitted a check for $1200 to the manager of the party, Earl H. Quinn, who had been in charge of the party. Quinn, who had been in charge of the party, said that he had been in charge of the party, and he had been in charge of the party.

University of Washington Professor Conveys Four Chapters in Old Testament

SEATTLE, May 5.—An Old Testament Pilgrims' Progress has been given in four of the psalms by Dr. Herbert H. Gowen, professor of the University of Washington. Dr. Gowen's translation differs from the standard one. He says that the original meter of the Old Testament songs and has diligently connected the four chapters into a continuous story of the pilgrims' return to the Promised Land.

World's Largest Garage Sells Lubrite Gasoline

The new 18th Street Garage, at 18th, Pine, 17th and Chestnut Streets, is the largest garage in the world.

If Scruggs, the Post Office, the Chemical, the Central National Bank, the Compton and the Columbia Buildings, and the Railway Exchange Building were all torn down

And if the lots thus vacated between 6th, 10th, Olive and Locust Streets were turned into parking spaces, they would hold approximately as many automobiles as the 18th Street Garage.

It's a big enterprise — this garage. It must be successful. Only the best of modern equipment, methods and materials are employed in the complete storage, washing, oiling and greasing service which it renders.

Naturally, then, the managers of the world's largest garage chose Lubrite Gasoline as the one motor fuel good enough for them to offer to their customers.

If you are a regular user of Lubrite, you will understand and applaud this choice. If you have never used Lubrite, take the judgment of the men who own the 18th Street Garage and give Lubrite a trial.

It costs no more than ordinary gasoline. There is no comparison on performance.

Only Quality Could Do It for real enjoyment

THAT mild, yet distinctive character that makes El Producto the one cigar for a host of smokers could never be achieved without the use of only the finest tobaccos.

Uncopyable blending of the choicest tobaccos created El Producto's character and it is unwavering adherence to quality standards that keeps El Producto's character as it is—Mild, Distinctive and Unvarying.

Without quality, El Producto would cease to be El Producto. But smokers know that the El Producto they enjoy so much today will be the same El Producto tomorrow, next month, next year.

Only the sizes vary—10 to 30c.

Politics and Politicians

James M. Beck, Who Has Won More Supreme Court Cases Than Any Other Lawyer Except Webster, Retires From Office Disappointed—Always Missed Top Places.

By CHARLES MICHELSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Solicitor-General James M. Beck is leaving the administration and probably public life a disappointed man. An eminent legal authority, an erudite and author, whose eloquence has contributed to the success of one Republican campaign after another, he somehow has failed to attain the peaks of office to which he has aspired.

Apparently Beck has now tired of seeing other men achieve the Cabinet and the high places of diplomacy while he himself has been left in a secondary station—always mentioned, always considered, and always passed over. Twice under President Coolidge he stood to be made Attorney-General, twice it seemed as if he would be appointed Ambassador to London, scene of his chief international fame; twice he might have been made Justice of the Supreme Court—and was not.

It was the same story under Mr. Harding. In the Cabinet-building days at Marion, between election and inauguration, on every tentative slate appeared the name of James Montgomery Beck. He was one of the "best minds" to which Harding referred in talking of his plans. He had been a conspicuous part of the campaign. He had shone among the leading opponents of the League of Nations.

As far back as Roosevelt's time he had been an Assistant Attorney-General. In the interim between that time and his re-entry into the Government service he has accumulated a fortune as well as distinction in the law. He was an LL.D. of half a dozen colleges. But Harry M. Daugherty was made Attorney-General and not James M. Beck.

"Acting" Attorney-General; Others Got the Job.

He was an officer of the French Legion of Honor, a Commander of the Belgian Order of the Crown, he was the only American admitted to Gray's Inn in London—and Col. George M. Henry was made Ambassador to the Court of St. James. Beck came to Washington with

Mr. Harding as Solicitor-General, a consolation prize. But that office was a post from which others had graduated to the Cabinet and the Supreme Court. It was understood that Beck was to tread the same path of preferment. Mr. Harding's death, however, found him still the second man in the Department of Justice.

Through the Harding administration, as through the Coolidge administration, Beck shone in his arduous path of preferment. Mr. Daugherty went out in the cloud of a scandal, and for a time Beck was acting Attorney-General. But Dean Stone came down from New York and Beck reverted to his accustomed status. Then Stone was transferred to the Supreme Court, and Beck was promoted to the higher rank. But Charles B. Warren failed of confirmation, the President went to Vermont for John Garfield Sargent.

In the diplomatic lists Beck has fared no better. Col. Harvey came home. There was a mention in the newspapers of Beck's familiarity with the British Court, the personal friendship between him and King George. But the appointment went to Frank B. Keiwer, a relatively obscure Senator.

James Beck to whom Europe was an unknown country. Hughes dropped out and Kellogg returned to be Secretary of State. Again it appeared for a time that Beck would realize at least a secondary ambition. But Ambassador Houghman was promoted to London from Berlin and Schurman was sent to Berlin.

So, at the age of 64, Beck goes back to the practice of law, leaving as his chief title to public fame the record of having won more cases before the Supreme Court than any other man save Daniel Webster.

He Never Sought Backing of Senators.

It is rather difficult to explain just why this lawyer, orator, and faithful party champion should always have missed what he aimed to achieve in politics. Always there was about him, it is true, a sort of mental arrogance, but no more arrogance than was characteristic of Charles E. Hughes. The politicians say he missed because he would not seek the support of the practical men of his party. He never had the backing of the two Pennsylvania Senators, for example. Perhaps this was because he never would ask for it. He felt himself as big as any Senator and saw no reason why he should require recommendation to Presidents who knew his desires and who had availed themselves of his services in times of political need.

As in the case of C. Bascom Slemm who left the administration because the big places were withheld from him, the question is often asked whether the appearance of unpopularity, if not of ingratitude, will not work to the disadvantage of the President. That is most unlikely. In the first place no personal bitterness is big enough to affect a President. In the second place, Calvin Coolidge has too strong a grip on the popular imagination for these things to make any difference.

It does not matter that the politicians say that the picture of Mr. Coolidge which the public has is magnified, idealized, and wholly inaccurate and even mythical. The Senators—and this comes for principally the justice party—will be naturally, meanly, his reticence, his rigidity, his stubbornness; but they come back to Washington after visiting among their constituents and with groups proclaiming that the mystery of the age is the hold which Mr. Coolidge has on the people of the United States.

The regimes of Mr. Coolidge's predecessors were punctuated by the crashes of breaking institutions—as, for instance, when Mr. Wilson parted with Col. Harvey and later with Col. House, and when Mr. Harding cast Elmer Dwyer overboard, but the present statesman in the White House has no such episodes. There never was any political episode close enough to Mr. Coolidge to make a break important. The Slemms and the Becks fall away, but fall away like drops from an icicle in a thaw.

WRITERS' GUILD OPENS JOURNALISM WEEK

Magazine Editors and Authors Speak at Opening Session at Columbia.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 2.—More than 80 men and women prominently connected with journalism and publishing attended the opening sessions of the sixteenth annual Journalism Week at the University of Missouri yesterday. Incoming trains late at night continued to bring more delegates and visitors, many of whom are scheduled to speak later this week.

All classes at the school of journalism have been dismissed by Dean Walter Williams for the week, the students being required to attend sessions and programs in lieu of regular school work.

Yesterday was given over to the Missouri Writers' Guild, with James W. Earp of Kansas City presiding. Speakers included Earp, H. F. Grinstead of Columbia, short story writer; Mrs. Ida Michlaris, editor "The Housewife," Topeka, Kan.; Mrs. Amy Barron Leonard, short story writer, Kansas City; J. S. Deramus, associate editor, Rock Island Magazine, Chicago; Edward Bernard Garrett, editor, Kansas City Star magazine; Miss Marjorie Barrows, assistant editor, "Child Life," Chicago; Mrs. Mae Williams Ward, Kansas City Authors' Club; Dr. Jay W. Hudson, head of the department of logic at the University of Missouri and author of several novels; J. B. Elin, novelist, Plattsburg, Mo.

In the evening the Writers' Guild held its annual banquet at the Daniel Boone tavern. Today's program will be devoted to the discussion of various special features of interest to writers and newspaper men, and Wednesday morning the meetings of the Missouri Press Association will open. O. O. McIntyre, New York columnist, and former Missouriian will be a speaker tomorrow night.

Missouri's Testimony at Caruthersville Holds Three. Special to the Post-Dispatch. STEELE, Mo., May 2.—Kirk Brown, jointly charged with Z. W. Stout and Reese Coatsworth with the burning of a barn belonging to Deputy Sheriff T. L. Matthews last February, made a complete confession at the preliminary trial held in Caruthersville, resulting in the three defendants being bound over to the Circuit Court under bonds of $2,000 each.

Brown testified that he and Coatsworth were hired by Stout to do the work; that Coatsworth poured the oil and he applied the match; that he was paid $10 for his part of the job and understood that Coatsworth was to receive $15.

REV. HIGHT, ON ROCKPILE, DENIES "BACKSLIDING" Sheriff at Mt. Vernon Is Asked to Deny Report for Convicted Poisoner. MOUNT VERNON, Ill., May 2.—Because he had heard rumors to the effect that he had "backslid" and had even resorted to "cursing," Rev. Lawrence M. Hight felt the urge to issue a public denial from Chester Penitentiary. He chose Sheriff Grant Holcomb of Mount Vernon to enlighten the public on his true work within the prison walls.

"I have not sworn an oath in 16 years," Hight told Sheriff Holcomb, "Furthermore I am carrying on the work of the gospel within the pen on here."

In speaking of his former infamy, Elsie Sweetin, Hight's declared his "sainted" wife and he declined to take the stand against her. He was extremely interested in her fight and let her beat the Sheriff said.

In speaking of his former activity, Elsie Sweetin, night still declared he "shielded her" and that he declined to take the stand against her. He was extremely interested in her fight and her appeal, the Sheriff said.

TOUGH LUCK

I DIDN'T raise my boy to be a scrapper. In fact I raised him for the minstreze. Nor did I raise my girl to be a flapper. But that is what she's turning out to be.

"River Club Yields Big Rum Plant." The rum plant must be one of those hardy perennials we read about.

Rum plants are like weeds. They spring up faster than you can root them out.

In fact, when it comes to springing up overnight, the mushroom has not a thing on the rum plant.

The rum runner who was kidnapped from a hospital in Paris, Ill., and brought to St. Louis, said when found under the bed in his mother's home that he had been chloroformed. A bit of unconscious will.

Looks like the bookmakers will have to shorten the odds in order to pay the professional bondsmen when they are pinched.

What they need is an injunction to restrain the police from meddling in their business.

Aren't there enough churches for the police to pick on without bothering an honest bookmaker trying to make an honest living?

SMALL TOWN STUFF

A Cincinnati baseball scribe in his story recently said in part: "They have easily double the population of Cincinnati here, but the combined attendance at the two ball parks won't top that at Redland Field for one club." Interesting, if true, especially about the two ball parks.

Cincinnati's baseball population may double that of St. Louis but we have a better police force. So there!

However, we have no quarrel with Cincinnati. Making faces at neighbors is small town stuff.

The Royal Red Rooters will always find the latch string hanging out but we can't guarantee that Uncle Sam won't crab the party on them.

Moreover some of our best native baseball talent has sported the colors of Cincinnati at one time or another, to wit: Charley Comiskey, Theodore Breitenstein, Heinie Pelts, Harry Steinberg, "Kid" Baldwin, "Bugs" Halliday, et al.

MILLER ASKED TO AGREE TO OPEN BALLOT BOXES

Igoe Contest Committee Says He Should Consent to Action if He Thinks Lead Will Be Increased.

MAYOR'S INDIRECT ATTACK RESENTED

His Statement That Advisory Body Represents Gamblers and Political Strategists Assailed.

The committee supporting William L. Igoe's contest of the election of Mayor Miller, last night issued a statement, in which it invited the Mayor to agree to open the ballot boxes and expedite the recount on the basis of his own statement last Monday, that a recount would substantially increase the majority of 3129 votes.

If Mayor Miller believes, as he says, that an examination of the ballot boxes will increase his majority, he should in all candor at once, and without quibbling, consent to the opening of the ballot boxes," the statement reads. "If he is sincere in his belief, this would at once confirm the validity of his title to the office and the validity of his election, which otherwise always will remain in doubt."

The suggestion was made that a stipulation might be entered into by Mayor Miller and the Igoe committee, in which the Mayor would agree to a recount under conditions agreeable to both. The Mayor said in his statement, however, that he would use every personal resource and all assistance he could muster to oppose the contest.

The committee of which Lawrence McDaniel, former Circuit Attorney, is chairman, said further that Mayor Miller's original statement was wanting in good faith and temper and good logic. This was the Mayor's charge that the Igoe committee's action placed him in the position of being "used as an instrument for a few professional gamblers and political strategists who have in view something more than the interest of Mr. Igoe. The committee's statement is full of errors."

Attitude of Miller. The indirect attack of Mr. Miller upon the committee advising him to contest his election is provocative of this reply. The attack is in addition to its lack of good faith and good logic. We regret the Mayor's charge that the Igoe committee's action placed him in the position of being "used as an instrument for a few professional gamblers and political strategists who have in view something more than the interest of Mr. Igoe. The committee's statement is full of errors."

He should in all candor at once, and without quibbling, consent to the opening of the ballot boxes. If he is sincere in his belief, this would at once confirm the validity of his title to the office and the validity of his election, which otherwise always will remain in doubt.
